FOREIGNERS IN EGYPT ARE TO BE PROTECTED

Chamberlain Tells Commons Warships Sent Also to Guard Suez Canal

Cairo Sending Reply to London on Egyptian Army Issue

London, June 1.—Explaining the dispatch of warships to Egypt, Sir Austen Chamberlain, Foreign Secretary, told the House of Commons to-day that until an agreement could be reached with the Egyptian Government concerning the Egyptian army, "Great Britain must insist upon the maintenance of safeguards, which past experience has shown to be effective."

Extremist Egyptian politicians were trying to turn the Egyptian army into a political weapon at the disposal of one political party, Chamberlain said.

He declared Britain would not permit the full play of subversive influences which would compromise Britain's vital interests and obligations in Egypt, namely, the defence of the Suez Canal and the protection of foreigners.

NEGOTIATIONS SUGGESTED

Britain, he said, was ready to open negotiations, however, with the Egyptian Government for settlement of the present problems.

DEBATE IN CAIRO

The next step in the Anglo-Egyptian situation will be a debate in the Egyptian Parliament. Cairo dispatches to-day said the Cabinet was in conference with regard to the reply to the recent British note. British officials believe negotiations will be opened for settlement of the problem.

NOTE FROM EGYPT

Cairo, Egypt, June 1.—The Egyptian Cabinet held a special session last night at which it is understood a draft reply was completed to the British Government's note on the proposed reorganization of the army. It is believed the Premier will present the reply to Lord Lloyd, British High Commissioner in Egypt, within the next twenty-four hours.

While the newspaper Azhar says the Government will not fully agree to the British claims, it adds that the reply is so framed as to leave the door open for further negotiations. Reuters representative understands the suggestions for Anglo-Egyptian military co-operation will be favorably considered.

VIEWERS CLEARLY EXPRESSED

According to the local press, the note the British Government dispatched to the Egyptian administration in connection with the efforts of a section of the Government to force the elimination of British troops from the Egyptian army, particularly the British commander-in-chief, covered several "foolish" sheets. Its tone is described as friendly, but very energetic.

The note, it is stated, dealt lengthily with the situation with regard to the Egyptian army and declared the British Government desired to have control of the army, giving the reason for this.

King Fuad has postponed his departure for Alexandria, which had been set for Thursday.

WARSHIPS ARRIVE

The three British battleships which were ordered from Malta on Sunday to Egypt have reached their ports. The Malay and Barham arrived at Alexandria and the Royal Sovereign at Port Said.

ONTARIO LIQUOR SALES ARE STARTED

System Established; Stores Now Doing Business

Toronto, June 1.—Prohibition in this province, in the form of the Ontario Temperance Act, passed out at midnight. This morning at 10 o'clock the sale of liquor under the Liquor Control Act became effective with the opening of eighteen Government stores in various parts of the province.

The Ontario Temperance Act was proclaimed as a war measure in 1916. Under that law the sale of liquor legally was restricted to "medical requirements" on physicians' prescriptions.

PERMIT SYSTEM

Under the Government control system inaugurated to-day, any adult resident or non-resident of the province, having a permit, may purchase malt or spirituous liquors at the Government stores for "beverage purposes" and carry them away or have them delivered by carrier or messenger for consumption in the residence or domicile of the purchaser. Stores were opened two weeks ago at some points for the issuance of permits, which cost $2 each and are subject to cancellation for abuse of the privilege.

Government stores were opened for sales to-day and the new system came into effect without "fuss or ceremony." In the words of D. B. Hanna, chairman of the Ontario Liquor Control Board:

P. VERIGIN ILL

Nelson, B.C., June 1.—P. Verigin, elder brother of the late Peter Verigin, "king" of the Doukhebois, collapsed on the street in Nelson yesterday and was taken to the hospital. The aged man is expected to recover.

PREMIER GOES ON MOTOR TRIP

Hon. John Oliver, premier of British Columbia, who recently underwent an operation at the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn., was feeling so well yesterday that he was able to take an automobile ride in the country to visit some old friends and relatives.

He is now convalescing at the home of his son, Dr. Robert Oliver, at Hamilton, Ont. He is going on a one-day motor trip to Grey County.

The Premier will not return to Victoria for three or four weeks.

AMUNDSEN IS TO SAIL FROM VICTORIA FOR THE ORIENT

Seattle, June 1.—Captain Roald Amundsen, noted antarctic and Arctic explorer and lecturer, arrived in Seattle yesterday for a week's stay in preparation for his tour of the Orient and Australia. He is scheduled to sail from Vancouver and Victoria on the liner Empress of Asia next week.

Captain Amundsen will travel through China, Japan, Australia and New Zealand.

COMMERCE CHAMBER SEES RESULTS OF ACTIVITIES FOR PORT DEVELOPMENT

SIR H. J. MACDONALD HAS LEG AMPUTATED

Veteran Police Magistrate of Winnipeg is Recovering, Say His Doctors

Operation Necessary to Save Life; He is Seventy-seven Years of Age

Winnipeg, June 1.—Sir Hugh John Macdonald, veteran police magistrate of Winnipeg, underwent an operation here this morning for the amputation of his right leg. The physicians attending him reported his condition as good a few hours after the operation.

Sir Hugh left the police bench on April 14 suffering from phlebitis, an inflammation of veins of his leg. His condition became so serious that an operation was decided on to save his life.

The police magistrate, who is seventy-seven years of age, is the son of Canada's first Premier, Sir John A. Macdonald, one of the Fathers of Confederation.

CHICAGO BLAMED FOR FLOOD LOSSES

Part of Mississippi Disaster Traced to Canal Diverting Lake Michigan Water

Washington, June 1.—Diversion of water from the Great Lakes by the Chicago Sanitary District is responsible for some of the loss of life and property in the Mississippi flood, according to briefs prepared for argument to-day by the Attorney-General of New York and his associates before Charles Evans Hughes, special master for the Supreme Court of the United States in the diversion litigation.

Whenever the tributaries of the Mississippi reach flood stage, lake water diversion through the Chicago Drainage Canal, the briefs contend, becomes a contributing menace.

Every port on Lake Ontario and the St. Lawrence River has been "comparatively damaged," the briefs argue, adding that even the river ports dependent upon the barge canal in New York State have experienced extensive reductions in shipments.

COURT RULING

Washington, June 1.—The Sanitary District of Chicago and Illinois have been sustained by the Supreme Court of the United States in their fight to compel New York to let the Great Lakes diversion litigation to abandon its contention that its waters in the Niagara and St. Lawrence Rivers were being affected by diversion of water from Lake Michigan.

The court attached a reservation, however, that New York might later litigate the question should it properly arise.

CHANGES IN CUSTOMS STAFF ARE URGED

Reorganization at Windsor, Ont., Suggested at Commission's Inquiry

Montreal, June 1.—A reorganization of the customs service at Windsor, Ont., was recommended to the Customs Commission here to-day by Hon. N. W. Rowell, K.C., counsel for the commission. In his statement Mr. Rowell said:

"The evidence discloses substantial payments to several customs officers by liquor exporters."

Mr. Rowell also recommended the Department of National Revenue should refuse entry to goods of United States houses found supplying false invoices to Canadian customers; that Canadian importers using these fraudulent invoices should be prosecuted and that greater care and efficiency should be exercised in the appraisal of goods coming into Windsor.

Recommendations in regard to the liquor business through Windsor were deferred till a later report.

AMUNDSEN IS TO SAIL FROM VICTORIA FOR THE ORIENT

Seattle, June 1.—Captain Roald Amundsen, noted antarctic and Arctic explorer and lecturer, arrived in Seattle yesterday for a week's stay in preparation for his tour of the Orient and Australia. He is scheduled to sail from Vancouver and Victoria on the liner Empress of Asia next week.

Captain Amundsen will travel through China, Japan, Australia and New Zealand.

FIGURES IN EVENTS BRINGING NEW CONSTITUTION FOR SPAIN

PREMIER DE RIVERA

Spain is to have a new constitution, says Primo de Rivera, Premier and Dictator. A national assembly composed of men appointed by his Government is to meet in September next, approve Rivera's draft of the constitution and call a general election. The new Parliament is to be asked to ratify the new constitution, which will embody the creed of the Rivera Government. King Alfonso is expected to consent to the plan, which was announced yesterday.

The year 1926 was one of the most strenuous and fruitful experienced by the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, C. P. W. Schwengers, president, reported at the annual meeting, held last night at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium. The attention of the chamber has been directed towards advancing the interests of Victoria and Vancouver Island along many roads, and cordial relations have been cemented with the Canadian National Railway, the Canadian Pacific Railway and the B.C. Coast Steamship Company.

Great consideration has been shown the representatives of the chamber by the Dominion and Provincial Governments. Mr. Schwengers dwelt with pleasure upon the success in obtaining leases from the Dominion of elevator sites on the Ogden Point docks, and also the assurance from the Provincial Government of nearly commencing construction of a highway up the West Coast of Vancouver Island.

Owing to the severity of the demands upon the time of the directors, President Schwengers suggested that the time has arrived for the employment of a permanent port expert, and warmly recommended the retention of Roger Plummer in the service of Victoria. He considered that the facilities obtained and anticipated during the next few months should be regarded as only the commencement of port development in Victoria.

President Schwengers' report was as follows:

"The year just closed has been one of intense activity in our organization, and much has been accomplished for the benefit of the community. May I enumerate:

CANADA TO REPLY TO U.S. NOTE ON NEW BORDER RULES

Ottawa, June 1.—The Canadian Government replied to the United States note on the immigration situation at the border probably will be delivered to Secretary of State Kellogg, by Hon. Vincent Massey, within the next two or three days. The United States note is now in the hands of Mr. Massey and that the note will be made public in Washington when presented to the State Department.

Dr. MacLennan said that a rumor was being spread that the head of the Premier, John Oliver, and Hon. William Sloan would necessitate the resignation of their seats by another session. This he denied. The latest wire he had received from the Premier direct was that he was out motoring every day and was only in bed at night. Under any circumstances the carrying on of the Government is not in question.

Hon. A. M. Manson will arrive here to-day. Hon. E. D. Barrow will follow and next week Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith and other speakers are expected. The hopes of the Liberals are rising as the campaign proceeds.

CAPT. LINDBERGH TO VISIT ST. LOUIS

U.S. Destroyer to Land Aviator June 14 in New York From Europe

London, June 1.—Capt. Charles A. Lindbergh intends to go direct to St. Louis a day or two after landing in New York about June 14. Whether he will fly to St. Louis is still undecided, so far as he is aware.

His plans were announced by the United States Embassy here.

MOTORBOAT SPEED RECORD IS MADE BY D'ANNUNZIO

Gardone, Italy, June 1.—Gabriele d'Annunzio, Italian poet, soldier and aviator, to-day established what is claimed to be a world speed record for motorboats, reaching 127 kilometers (78.91 miles), an hour. He used a specially designed boat.

Seattle, June 1.—First of its kind in federal court records of this district, a suit for damages caused by the collision of a submarine chaser with a seaplane is on file here.

K. L. Jones of Tacoma, owner of the plane, is asking a judgment of $9,075.65 on the contention that faulty navigation caused the eagle boat No. 57 of the United States Navy to crash into his plane off Pier D in Elliott Bay last year.

FIRST SEAPLANE DAMAGE ACTION STARTED IN SEATTLE

HAUL MADE BY SEATTLE ROBBERS

Seattle, June 1.—Locking three officers and a customer of the Continental Mutual Savings Bank in a small room, a lone unmasked leucis bandit ransacked the vault of the bank of $40,000 in cash and $4,000 in travelers' cheques and escaped here to-day. Police believe the bandit gained entrance to the bank during the night and was waiting for the bank officials when they arrived for the day.

TROOPS IN FLORIDA DEFEAT BIG MOBS

Three Killed in Fight at Jail and Thirty Arrests Made

Struggle of Crowd to Seize Man Who Confessed Murders

Tampa, Fla., June 1.—It developed to-day that Hugh E. McRae of Fort William, Ont., one of the three persons killed during an attack by a mob on the county jail here, was shot while he was ministering aid to a wounded man.

Sheriff Hiers announced thirty persons had been arrested as members of the mob and added that every member of the crowd who could be identified would be arrested.

Reinforcements for the 500 National Guardsmen holding the jail and a 'district within two blocks in each direction began arriving to-day from nearby towns.

LIBERALS RECEIVE FINE RECEPTION

Hearty Cheers For Premier Given by North Okanagan Electors

Vernon, June 1.—It is regarded as rather significant here that Gen. A. D. McRae, Liberal candidate, addressed the election campaign. The two are known to be in close conference. It is thought that Gen. McRae's purpose is to rally the Liberals in the service of the party to the support of W. F. Kennedy, Conservative candidate.

In view of developments at the Kamloops convention, the movement is being watched with interest.

Hon. J. D. MacLennan arrived yesterday to head the Government forces. Last night he and Dr. K. C. Macdonald, Liberal candidate, addressed well-attended meetings at Lavington. This was a point at which in the last by-election the Liberals found it difficult to get a meeting at all, and it is regarded as a hopeful sign by them that last night's gathering was well attended and the speakers were given a splendid hearing.

Dr. MacLennan said that a rumor was being spread that the head of the Premier, John Oliver, and Hon. William Sloan would necessitate the resignation of their seats by another session. This he denied. The latest wire he had received from the Premier direct was that he was out motoring every day and was only in bed at night. Under any circumstances the carrying on of the Government is not in question.

Hon. A. M. Manson will arrive here to-day. Hon. E. D. Barrow will follow and next week Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith and other speakers are expected. The hopes of the Liberals are rising as the campaign proceeds.

NAVY LEAGUE HEADS MEET IN CALGARY

Dominion Council Chooses St. John, N.B., For Its Sessions in 1928

Calgary, June 1.—St. John, N.B., was chosen as the city for next year's annual meeting of the Dominion Council of the Navy League of Canada at its concluding session here yesterday. The meeting will be in June, 1928.

Because the Speech from the Throne at the last session of Parliament noted an expansion in Canada's seaborne commerce but did not formulate any proposal by which Canada could take her share of the protection of her own trade, "and because for that commerce protection is necessary," the council resolved to "take steps to awaken the people into a realization of their duty by a vigorous educational campaign."

Lands that were submerged by Spring floods and recurring rainfall are drying out, but little hope is held of utilizing this acreage for crops this season. Country roads throughout the prairies are again in fair shape, and farmers will soon be turning their attention to the first crops of hay.

FAVORABLE CROP WEATHER PLEASES PRAIRIE FARMERS

Winnipeg, June 1.—The grain crop outlook on prairies has been greatly improved by the favorable weather of the past week. Scattered showers have been reported from a few districts, but the moisture has not been sufficient to interfere with work on the land.

Throughout the grain growing belt of the plains warm temperatures prevail to-day, providing ideal growing conditions after the heavy Spring rainfall. The season's wheat acreage is practically ninety per cent seeded and

NORTHERN CHINESE TROOPS TRY TO HOLD YELLOW RIVER LINE

Foreign Leaders Plan to Send Forces to Tientsin Area to Protect Nationals

Marshal Chang Protests Landing of Japanese Troops at Tsingtao

Peking, June 1.—Chang Tso-Lin's great strategic retreat before the advancing Southern Chinese or Nationalist forces has brought two questions to fever heat. Will Chang be able to hold the Yellow River line, and what will the foreign powers do to protect their nationals remaining in Northern China? It is asked.

The Allied Northern armies notified their legations of the impending withdrawal of Chang's armies twenty-four hours before public announcement was made. The diplomats immediately convened to discuss the situation, but the results of their discussion were not divulged. It is clear, however, that the general attitude of the powers favors remaining in the Peking and Tientsin area regarding the approach of the Nationalists, affording the foreign residents the protection of troops if necessary.

PROTESTS MADE

Peking, June 1.—The headquarters of Marshal Chang Tso-Lin, Manchurian warlord, and the Peking Foreign Office have both sent protests to the Japanese Legation here against the landing of 2,000 Japanese troops at Tsingtao.

THREE REGIMENTS SENT

Tsinging, China, June 1.—Three Japanese regiments of 2,000 men arrived here to-day from Peking. The Chinese authorities immediately protested against the landing of the foreign troops.

Several days ago the Japanese Government ordered 2,000 troops to proceed from Manchuria to Tsingtao for the purpose of protecting Japanese lives and property in the Shantung railway zone. It was stated, however, that they were being sent chiefly as a precautionary measure.

HONANU CAPTURED

Hankow, June 1.—A communique issued to-day, bearing the date May 26, sets forth a claim by Marshal Feng Yu-Hsiang that in the campaign here against the Northern Chinese forces his troops captured Honanfu. They took 2,000 prisoners and six trainloads of ammunition.

Latest reports from China said the Anhkuochun, or Northern Alliance, admitted withdrawing from the city because of reverses at the hands of the Southern or Nationalist armies in Honan. Official dispatches reaching the British Government confirmed reports of the Southern success and the Foreign Office was said to be taking a serious view of the situation. It had sent a warning to Peking, and the Northern Government, that steps should be taken to prevent further bloodshed.

BUILDING PERMITS SHOW SHARP RISE

Over 1,400 Ratepayers Contributing to Voluntary Pre-paid Tax Plan

Setting a new mark for Victoria building permits issued by the city for new construction within a two-mile radius of the City Hall, $802,447 is the declared value of work commenced between January 1 and May 30. It was announced at the City Hall to-day. Greater Victoria building figures are well over the million mark for the first five months of the year.

In this period 240 permits were taken out in the city with May contracts running into $463,822, as compared with $95,649 for the same month last year. The total figures are even more marked, showing $802,447 as compared with $350,664 for the five month period last year.

The sum of $25,588 has been received by the city treasury up to May 30 under the prepayment of taxes plan, which now has 1,415 subscribers, ratepayers who are taking advantage of the plan to reduce the amount of their tax bills for early settlement. Rebates under the heading of interest sums earned by the contributors to the plan will amount to $12,178 on the sum already subscribed.

DETROIT ROBBERS VISIT ONTARIO SIDE AND TAKE WHISKY

Windsor, Ont., June 1.—Four heavily armed men, believed to be Detroit run-runners, held up Royal Canadian Mounted Police officers at Ford City shortly after midnight and then made their escape with $345 in cash and 265 cases of high grade whisky, the latter valued at $13,832. The holdup men came in two boats.

John Drew Is In California Hospital

San Francisco, June 1.—John Drew, seventy-four, veteran actor and until a few days ago star in "Treasure of the Wells" when he became ill while on tour, suffered a relapse here yesterday and is now in a sanitarium. His physicians said the date Drew could return to the stage was indefinite.

OTTAWA GREET'S FIRST MINISTER SENT BY THE U.S.

William Phillips, Arriving in Capital to Represent the Republic, Is Welcomed by Premier King, Hon. Fernand Rinfret and Others; Guest at Luncheon; Presents Credentials to Governor-General

Ottawa, June 1.—William Phillips, first United States Minister to Canada, was greeted by official Ottawa shortly after 1 p.m. to-day as he stepped from a train. Premier King was the first to shake the Minister by the hand and extend welcome in the name of Canada. With the Premier was Hon. F. Rinfret, Secretary of State, and Eric Mettville, secretary to the Governor-General.

The United States consular staff, headed by Colonel J. G. Foster, were then presented to Mr. Phillips along with Major H. A. Dargue of the United States army air service, who had arrived in the capital by air only an hour earlier on a goodwill flight. Dr. O. D. Skelton, Canadian Under-Secretary of State for External Affairs; Sir George Perley, Senator Belcourt and other members of the Cabinet were present.

CREDENTIALS PRESENTED

Ottawa, June 1.—William Phillips, first United States Minister to Canada, presented his credentials to the Governor-General. Mr. Phillips was presented to Lord Willingdon by Dr. O. D. Skelton, Under-Secretary of External Affairs for Canada.

"My Government seeks," said Mr. Phillips, "in the establishment of my mission, to strengthen the cordial sentiments which have ever animated the people of Canada, and the United States, confident their association in everything that touches peace and order progress will bring new benefits to both."

TO STRENGTHEN FRIENDSHIP

And these cordial words found echo both in the letter of credence from President Coolidge and in the reply of the Governor-General. President Coolidge observed that "Mr. Phillips is well-informed of the desire of the United States Government to cultivate to the fullest extent the friendship which has so long existed between Your Majesty's Dominion of Canada and this country."

FULL CO-OPERATION

"I am very sensible," said Viscount Willingdon in reply, "of the remarks to which you have given expression with regard to the cordial and friendly relations which have long existed between our two countries, and can assure you that both I and my Government will give you every assistance in promoting our mutual progress and prosperity. We in Canada recognize the many advantages we have obtained from the fact that we live in close association with a great and powerful neighbor. These relations have been confirmed and strengthened during your term of service amongst us."

WON ALL THE WAY

Call Boy was a winner all the way and made practically the whole course running easily. The official time was 2 minutes 34 3/5 seconds.

After Call Boy, Hot Night and Shian Mor came the thundering field of colts, and in a full quarter-mile behind was Stamped, the only filly to run and the property of the Dowager Marchioness of Queensbury.

ONTARIO MAN WON $16,000 ON DERBY

Toronto, June 1.—When Call Boy won the Derby in England to-day Denis O'Brien of Scarborough Heights, near here, became $16,000 richer. He held the winning ticket in a sweepstake, the first prize of which was $5,000. O'Brien was offered $7,500 for his ticket as soon as it was known he had drawn the Derby favorite. He refused the offer, however, but later disposed of half share for $3,750. He is married and has several children.

General Election In P.E.I. Has Been Set For June 25

Charlottetown, P.E.I., June 1.—The president of the Queen's County Conservative Association stated to-day that the Prince Edward Island provincial general election would be held Saturday, June 25.

Several officials of the association declared the Calgary convention promised to be a larger attendance than the annual convention held in Toronto last year. More than 500 representatives have been made at one hotel alone.

While the number of arrivals on the special trains have been large, many delegates will not arrive until this afternoon.

This morning was spent by the delegates visiting the retail stores, which because of the half-holiday were to be closed on Wednesday afternoon. The afternoon will be spent by the delegates in sightseeing.

Registration of delegates will commence at 8 o'clock to-morrow morning and the business sessions will open at 9 o'clock.

MURDER SENTENCES

Washington, June 1.—The President of the United States, without the consent of the convict, can change a death sentence to life imprisonment, the Supreme Court held to-day in a case from Alaska in which Vucio Perovich was convicted of murder.

BRITISH BY-ELECTION WON BY LIBERAL

Sir W. Edge Victor in Bosworth Division; Result is Loss For Conservatives

London, June 1.—The Conservatives lost a seat in the House of Commons to-day in the Bosworth by-election, caused by the resignation of Capt. Robert Gee. A Liberal captured the seat when Sir William Edge polled 11,981 votes; J. Minto, Labor, 11,710; and Brigadier-General E. L. Spears, Conservative, 7,685 votes.

The result was delayed several hours when Mr. Minto called for a recount because of the closeness of the vote. Capt. Gee, who was elected in 1924, resigned when he moved to Western Australia.

Of the 37,000 electors in the division, more than 31,000 voted.

BRITISH COLUMBIA PRODUCTS WEEK

WHAT IS YOUR BOY GOING TO DO
when he leaves school? The boys and girls are our greatest assets. Make jobs for them in British Columbia.

The question is pertinent and the answer is perfectly clear. Neither has anything to do with politics. They form part of the advertising material which the British Columbia Products Bureau is publishing this week to draw the attention of our people to the urgent need of more patronage for the articles manufactured or grown in British Columbia.

Some people seem to cling to the idea that unless a government adopts some mystic policy to furnish more employment, there is no other way of creating new payrolls or increasing old ones. No such conception could be wider of the mark. True, governments may assist in the matter by such co-operation as is in their power to extend; but the chief responsibility rests with the people themselves.

Very little new can be said about the benefits that would follow if the people of this Province more often would demand British Columbia products in preference to those which are imported from foreign countries or from other parts of the Dominion. It is not always possible to do this. We do not produce all the articles we need either in sufficient quantity or range of variety. At the same time the simple truth ought to be recognized that until the demand for the local article shall be increased, the output will not grow; and until there shall be a greater production of the articles now being turned out, there will not be sufficient profits for investment in the new industries that would add to the range of variety.

This is the lesson which British Columbia Products Week is intended to drive home to the consuming public. There is nothing complicated about it. It is a fact that Victoria's shortest cut to industrial expansion is a greater demand by our citizens for the products of this community. This simple policy furnishes the opportunity for all to do their share. It is one of the best ways of assisting the Chamber of Commerce and the Industrial Committee of the City Council. It is the basis of that demonstration of faith in ourselves of which Mr. Roger Pinneo spoke last night.

This is one of the first things a prospective industrial investor looks for. If it exists in a healthy form, if he is assured that there would be a local market for the wares he might feel inclined to produce, he will establish his business. But he will not sink his money because he is invited to, because we have a nice climate, good golf courses, plenty of facility for recreation of all kinds. He will come only if he sees a fair chance of getting returns for his investment. The local aspect differs not one whit from the provincial aspect. Buy the local product, even if it costs a little more for a time, and make jobs for our boys and girls at home.

SHANGHAI AS USUAL

THE ENTERPRISING CITY OF SHANGHAI
is sustaining its reputation, established many years ago, as a source of utterly unreliable news regarding happenings in China. For example, during the last few days we have been informed from that place that the Chinese Nationalist army had suffered a disastrous defeat in the region of Hankow by the forces of Marshal Chang Tso-Lin, and that therefore an entirely new situation was developing. As usual, those reports have been found to be wholly untrue. It was the army of Chang Tso-Lin which suffered the defeat, with prospects so far-reaching that the Nationalists are expected to be in Peking within a short time, and the foreign powers are preparing to send more troops to protect their nationals in northern China. The rich province of Honan, formerly controlled by Chang, is practically in the hands of the Nationalists.

The situation closely resembles that which preceded the occupation of Shanghai by the Nationalists. Prior to that development we were deluged with reports from Shanghai declaring that it would be impossible for the Nationalists to get anywhere near that place, that the forces of Chang were so strong that the Cantonese would be easily held. We had reports of serious defeats suffered by the Nationalists. What happened, of course, was that the Nationalists were sweeping everything before them, and the native part of Shanghai fell into their hands without making any defence at all.

The foreign section of Shanghai is trying to direct the policies of the foreign powers in the interests of the old order, in other words, to influence those powers to use force in combatting the Nationalist movement. It wants to preserve, at the point of the bayonet, the condition under which the affairs of China were dominated by a mere handful of foreigners in their own interests. They do not seem to realize that political progress is as inevitable in China as it has been in any other country; that all the powers on earth can not suppress Chinese nationalism, and that the old order of extra-territorial domination is passing away forever. Hence we are being bombarded with a persistent propaganda designed to minimize the progress of the Nationalist movement. The foreign governments, however, see the situation in its true perspective. They recognize that the awakening of China is becoming an established fact, that eventually they will have to consider China exactly as they would Japan, as a nation controlling its own affairs. This, of course, must involve inconvenience and hardship for foreigners and foreign interests in China, but that has been the case, as far as outsiders are concerned, during the birth pangs of every nation. The Chinese question is a vastly bigger thing, in its relation to mankind, than the interests concentrated in the foreign section of Shanghai or any other city in China.

A LIBERAL GAIN

ONE OF THE MOST STRIKING REVERSES which the Baldwin Government has sustained in the series of byelections that have taken place since the general election of 1924 is that which turned the Bosworth division of Leicestershire over to the Liberal Party yesterday.

In this contest the banner of Liberalism was carried by Sir William Edge, who polled 11,981 votes; that of Labor by Mr. J. Minto, who polled 11,710 votes; and that of Conservatism by Brigadier-General E. L. Spears, who polled 7,685 votes. The significance of this result is seen by a comparison of the votes the respective representatives of the three parties polled in 1924. On that occasion Captain Robert Ger, Conservative, whose application for the Chiltern Hundreds through ill-health caused the vacancy, rolled up 10,114 votes; Mr. G. Ward, Liberal, 9,756 votes; and Mr. J. Minto, Labor, 9,143 votes. It thus will be seen that, as far as votes go, the anti-Conservative support amounted to no fewer than 18,899 ballots. At the two previous general elections, 1922 and 1923, the seat was won by a Conservative and Liberal respectively.

Yesterday's election issue very largely was the Government's Trades Union Reform Bill, although recent dispatches indicate that the break with Russia crept into many of the platform discussions. In any event the Liberal Party will look upon it as a substantial victory, since its candidate polled 1,807 more votes than the Conservative in 1924 and 2,225 more votes than the Liberal candidate on that occasion, while the Conservative is 2,429 votes behind his 1924 total. Incidentally, the total ballot cast was 31,376 out of an electorate of 36,600, an indication in itself of the keen interest displayed in the issues discussed.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

THE MINISTER OF LABOR

Under the able direction of the Hon. Peter Heenan, more familiarly known to his friends as "Pete," the Labor Department is gradually being restored to the position of prestige in the Federal Government which this department's importance warrants. Legislation introduced in the last session by the Minister of Labor has been successfully piloted through the House of Commons and afterwards passed in the Senate. When one considers the past record of this august body, especially respecting labor legislation, it can indeed be classed as a remarkable achievement that two such important measures as Old Age Pensions and Registration of Union Labels should be assented to in one session and no doubt much of the credit for this is due to the esteem in which the present Minister of Labor is already held by his colleagues. Since assuming the portfolio of Minister of Labor, the Hon. Peter Heenan has energetically set himself to become acquainted with the many problems with which this department has to deal and notwithstanding the onerous duties imposed upon him in attending to the session of Parliament he appears always to find some time to meet representatives of labor or others who seek the assistance of the department on matters affecting industrial peace.

The suspicion of many outside the ranks of labor that a Minister of Labor who carries an international trade union card will be unfairly prejudiced in favor of trade unions is being quickly dispelled. Though the Honorable Minister recognizes that his department is established and should operate for the benefit of labor, he also recognizes that his administration must be such as to convince all partners of industry of its fairness and impartiality. In adopting a course of this kind the Minister is showing himself a true friend of labor. With the addition of the administration of the Federal Government's part of the Old Age Pension Act, and the rehabilitation of some other branches of Government service administration by the Labor Department, the placing of officials of an equal plane with those of similar classes in other departments, coupled with the initiative of the Minister himself, prospects are that the Labor Department will again become recognized as one of the most important branches of the Government service and in this the Minister can be assured of the whole-hearted support of the organized workers, as represented by the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada.

Queer Quirks of Nature

By AUSTIN H. CLARK

The size of a fish is not always a measure of its importance. Some fishes can make up for their small size by their great abundance.

The loaches, of which there are about ninety kinds in all, are queer little things found in many rivers in Europe and in Asia. The largest kinds reach nearly a foot in length, but most are much smaller. Wherever they are common enough they are eagerly sought for food.

Loaches are especially common in central and eastern Asia. Generally speaking, they are most characteristic of swift streams with stony beds, in which they live up to at least eleven thousand feet above the sea. But they are found also in the lowlands and in tropical India there are some very beautifully colored kinds.

They are common in stagnant water all over Japan, and a rather pretty kind called the "doosoo" is abundant in the rice fields in the summer.

TURN TURTLE

When a turtle is turned over on its back it becomes practically helpless, for it is almost impossible for it to right itself. Likewise, when a car turns over, its progress is stopped as effectively as that of the turtle, and the similarity of the predicaments has caused the phrase "turn turtle" to be applied to any inanimate motive object which capsize.

Canadian Questions and Answers

CANADIAN MINING PRODUCTION

Q.—What is Canada's mining production?
A.—Canada's mining production value is showing a marked annual increase. In 1910 it amounted to only $108,000,000 as compared with $243,000,000 in 1926. And as the many promising mining camps come into production, in Quebec, Ontario, Manitoba and the West, these figures will no doubt rapidly expand. No less than $120,000,000 was paid in mining wages in 1926 and yet experts say the industry is only in its infancy.

How the stone was placed upon its resting place is the intriguing problem scientists have puzzled over for years. In a small way the rock is similar to those of Stonehenge, and probably was erected during the same age.

lack of all-the-year-round communication with the hinterland. In the first year of the Dominion, the total trade was just under $120,000,000. Imports amounted to $67,000,000, exports of Canadian products to $48,000,000 and exports of foreign products to a little over $4,000,000. Of the $48,000,000 of Canadian exports it is significant that only $1,500,000 was described as "manufactures."

From this comparatively unimportant position as a trading country at Confederation, Canada climbed slowly but steadily until the end of the nineteenth century, and thereafter very rapidly indeed. In 1926 the exports of Canadian produce reached $1,315,000,000 or no less than twenty-seven times their value in 1868, although the population had hardly trebled during the intervening period—a comparison which shows how greatly the productive capacity of the Canadian people has increased within the memory of men who are still with us, and suggests what an advance there has been in their industry and their standard of living. In 1927 the exports of Canadian produce are somewhat lower at $1,252,000,000, about twenty-six times their value in 1868.

Imports have on the whole grown much less rapidly than exports. From the $67,000,000 of Confederation days they rose to $927,000,000 in 1926 and $1,031,000,000 in 1927—an increase of about fifteen and a half times. When imports are compared with exports we find, after allowance is made for exports of foreign products, that an excess of $14,000,000 of imports over exports for the first year of the Dominion has become an excess of exports of $234,000,000 in the sixtieth. In other words, in the last fiscal year we exported about $30,000,000 more month than we imported.

But the mere value of the commodities imported and exported is not the only thing that counts; the degree of elaboration to which they have been brought is also a most important matter. Since Confederation the manufacture of goods has become a more important part of the Canadian economy, and the degree of elaboration to which they have been brought is also a most important matter. Since Confederation the manufacture of goods has become a more important part of the Canadian economy, and the degree of elaboration to which they have been brought is also a most important matter.

Out of his experience as an undergraduate and as teacher he had come to the conclusion, said the Canadian Minister, that Canada's progress was not simply of the teacher and the student, "but rather of a body of men and women, some older than the others, few with great experience, but all bent on learning, in exchanging their ideas, in pursuing their course toward that mysterious goal we call truth."

Pender Island

Pender Island, May 31.—Mr. and Mrs. McNeill are leaving Browning Harbor this week to engage in fishing at River's Inlet.

Mrs. Wright of Victoria is visiting with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Auchterlonie.

The annual picnic on May 24 was well attended in spite of the dull cool weather. Lunch was served under the trees, after which the sports commenced and continued throughout the afternoon. A number of young people went over to Mayne Island and participated in the sports there, and the dance which followed in the evening.

On Friday evening a meeting was held at the home of S. F. Corbett, when the committee selected by the Parent-Teacher Association sought the co-operation of the executive of the Farmers' Institute of South Russia for the forthcoming jubilee picnic on July 1. This was most enthusiastically given, and all are now working untiringly to make the affair a success. Special prizes are being donated for the various events. There will be an elaborate parade with gaily decorated floats and vehicles of all sorts, an improvised band, community singing, sports, etc. For the last four weeks everyone will be busy planning for this great event.

KENTUCKY AUDIENCES HEAR MR. MASSEY

Canadian Minister to U.S. Speaks at Louisville and Lexington

Louisville, Ky., June 1.—The Union Jack flew at the head of the 150 members of the Kentucky Branch of the English-speaking Union here yesterday, while Hon. Vincent Massey, Canadian Minister to the United States, spoke of "exploits of neighborliness."

"I am glad English-speaking folk are learning we may be good patriots and good neighbors at the same time," he said. He praised the English-speaking Union for its work in promoting comradeship and good feeling between peoples and paid a tribute to the Kentucky branch.

BRITAIN'S POSITION
Judge R. W. Bingham, honorary president of the Kentucky organization, presided at the luncheon. He characterized England as the most important entity in the world.

"By England," he said, "I do not mean a small island off the coast of Europe. I refer to the state of mind of the English-speaking people throughout the world who have wrought for themselves a condition of religious, political and social freedom without losing that supporting attitude toward life which is the characteristic of the race."

HONORED BY UNIVERSITY
Mr. Massey came to Louisville from Lexington, where on Monday the University of Kentucky had conferred on him the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws.

On Monday night Mr. Massey was entertained at the Ashland Golf Club at a dinner given by the University of Kentucky.

"Universities are united against diseases of the mind, against poverty of the spirit and against the degree of spiritual things come together. There is a common language between universities, a language indigenous, the language of understanding, the language of the North American Continent."

BELIEF IN EDUCATION
Mr. Massey said the history of Kentucky represented a passionate belief in education, a belief that education should be at the disposal of all.

He traced the influence of the older universities of Europe on the college of the North American Continent. "In Canada," he added, "our universities, like Canadian life in general, show many streams of influence. In our universities, as in other things, we have developed characteristics which are ours. The strands may be English or Scottish or French or American, but the pattern can be called Canadian."

Mr. Massey spoke of the benefit which had been derived from the exchange of professors between Canadian and United States colleges. There was also an easy interchange of knowledge gained by scientific discoveries.

WORLD BENEFITED

The discovery of Dr. Banting in Canada of insulin has immediately suited in benefit throughout the world, he said.

Canada and the United States had also the advantage of a common language. Out of his experience as an undergraduate and as teacher he had come to the conclusion, said the Canadian Minister, that Canada's progress was not simply of the teacher and the student, "but rather of a body of men and women, some older than the others, few with great experience, but all bent on learning, in exchanging their ideas, in pursuing their course toward that mysterious goal we call truth."

EFFORTS TO REDUCE SMOKE NUISANCE

Vancouver City Council and Mill Men to Discuss Possible Measures

Vancouver, June 1.—The Vancouver city board of works has named Wednesday, June 8, 10 a.m., as the time the city council will meet mill representatives to discuss the smoke nuisance, it is announced. At that meeting the recently appointed smoke inspector will be asked to give a report on the situation as he has found it in a survey just made. In the meantime, it is understood a further adjournment will be allowed in the prosecution of the Pacific Box Company and the Vancouver Lumber Company, instituted by the city.

Willingness on the part of the mill owners to do everything possible to minimize the black smoke nuisance was expressed by W. S. Burley, representing the British Columbia Fir and Cedar Company and the Pacific Box Company, D. Robertson of the Hat Portage Company, and W. L. Legg of the Vancouver Lumber Company.

It was claimed by Mr. Burley that many of the lumber concerns were using every possible device to keep the regulations, but that so long as logs containing pitch, turpentine, rosin and creosote were used, they would not eliminate black smoke. Also he contended the dirt complained of was produced, not by the mills but by the factories and buildings burning soft coal and oil, and that instead of being detrimental to health gases and substances emitted in the mill smoke were beneficial.

INVESTMENTS CONSIDERED

The council was divided in its opinion as to how far the city should go in enforcing the by-law, Ald. P. C. Gibbons emphasizing the tendency of strict regulations to scare off possible investment. While Ald. E. W. Dean maintained it was the council's duty to protect the merchants and householders who suffered or were inconvenienced by smoke.

The fundamental feature of the matter, in the opinion of Charles Brakenridge, city engineer, was that in amending the smoke by-law as it existed now the council placed the onus on the industries, and it was up to them to show the city objectionable smoke could be eliminated.

"If we should tell the mills what equipment to use," said Mr. Brakenridge, "we may finish by having to run the mills for them, as they may have the best of furnace boilers. Who in the world and not have competent operators. You have placed the onus on them and it is not up to the city to interfere, but it is necessary to be done to live within the by-law."

FOUND GIRL GUIDES IN EVERY PORT ON THEIR WORLD TOUR

Miss Trotter and Miss Wanklyn of England Organized Companies in Hongkong

On the last lap of a globe-circling tour in the interests of Guiding, two English girls arrived in Victoria from China on the Empress of Asia on Sunday morning, and are spending a few days in the city before continuing their journey East. They are Miss Lova Trotter, Divisional Commissioner for East Hertfordshire, England, and Miss Christina Wanklyn, District Commissioner in the same county.

A GUIDE IN EVERY PORT
Since leaving England eight months ago, these two travelers have called at many ports, and as they told a Times representative this morning, at every call from Penang, in the Straits Settlements, to Victoria they have been met by Girl Guide representatives, showing the world character of this still very young movement.

In China where they have just spent six months, Miss Trotter and Miss Wanklyn found flourishing Girl Guide companies in Shanghai, Peking, Tientsin and other of the more important centres visited in their travels. The international character of the movement was nowhere better demonstrated than in Shanghai, where in a company of ten Guides they found eight nationalities, all welded together in the common interest of Guiding. In Tientsin there was a flourishing ranger company of Russian girls.

FOUNDED NATIVE COMPANIES
While in Hongkong Miss Trotter and Miss Wanklyn organized the two first native companies of Guides founded in the city. There were fifteen girls in each company, headed by a white captain and a native lieutenant. The Guides wear the picturesque native costume, consisting of a blue and white uniform, and white, with dark blue pipings for the Summer.

The English Guides found these young recruits most interested and a joy to learn all about Guiding. The Chinese characteristic of concentration and their marvelous gift of memory made their teaching an easy task. Just give them an order or an instruction once, and they never forgot it, said Miss Trotter. She admitted that the language was a difficulty, but the instruction having to be given through the medium of an interpreter, but the keenness and enthusiasm of the recruits made light even of this handicap.

LANGUAGE DIFFICULTIES
Miss Trotter found that the Chinese girls were especially intrigued by the signalling, this appealing to their love of the secret. At present, they are learning the necessary English for the signalling, it being impossible to translate the Chinese language into the code. These two new native companies made their first appearance at a big Girl Guide rally in Hongkong, their smart appearance being greeted with enthusiasm by the native and white population alike. On Armistice Day last year, one Chinese Guide and one English Guide together laid a wreath on the cenotaph, a pretty little incident indicative of the international spirit of the movement.

YOUR BABY and MINE

By MARY MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

A Well Cared for and Perfect Baby
Mrs. L. M. S. writes: "I wonder if you would be interested in hearing about my nine months old baby? At birth the baby weighed a little over seven pounds and now weighs eighteen pounds and ten ounces. She is sunny and good natured. The bedtime limbering-up exercises of modified milk. Orange juice at 9 a.m. Cereal and milk at 10 a.m. and strained spinach or carrot and rice with her milk at 2 p.m. Prune juice at 4 p.m. and her milk at 6. At 10 p.m. she has another bottle of milk.

She sleeps for three hours after her morning feeding and has a short nap in the afternoon. She goes to bed in a darkened room and sleeps through from 10 until 6 without waking. She has breast fed until eight months old. At that time I took one breast feeding away and substituted a bottle feeding and continued this until I had her on all bottle feedings. She is very active and springs to her feet when we take her up. Since she was three months old she has been trained to a morning movement. From 5 until 6 is her fussy time so for a few minutes I cuddle her and then undress and bathe her. I let her kick and play in her band and shirt and diaper for about fifteen minutes on a table. I hope my letter will find a place in your corner."

ANSWER
Yours is literally a perfect baby. She is exactly the right care a baby of this age should have, as well as the right food. The bedtime limbering-up exercises are splendid. All mothers find that babies are fussy during this last hour before bedtime and they will be not advisable to excite him by playing with him, just watch him that ought to be pleasure enough for the mother.

BRIGHT SUNSHINE USHERS IN JUNE BRIDES

BISHOP'S DAUGHTER BRIDE AT PRETTY CEREMONY TO-DAY

Miss Peggy Schofield and Mr. J. Harold Wilson United at Christ Church Cathedral

Christ Church Cathedral this afternoon at 2:30 was the scene of the first of a series of weddings on the social calendar for June, when, in the presence of a large congregation, Margaret Burrows (Peggy) only daughter of Right Rev. C. de V. Schofield, Bishop of Columbia, and Mrs. Schofield, was united in marriage to Joseph Harold Wilson, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wilson of Victoria. The Bishop of Columbia officiated at the ceremony, which was beautiful in its simplicity.

The floral decorations in the cathedral, carried out by girl friends of the bride, were unusually pretty, masses of early Summer blooms in tones of pastel pink and mauve being used on the chancel rails and on the altar.

The bride, who was given in marriage by Mr. Henry Schofield of Vancouver, was winsome in a simple frock of white flat crepe, trimmed with exquisite lace from her mother's wedding gown, with a train of beautiful old lace, the gift of her godmother. Her veil of soft net fell from a circlet of orange blossoms in filmy folds. A bouquet of bridal roses and lilies of the valley completed her bridal toilette.

Miss Betty Schofield, sister of the bride, was the only attendant, in a dainty frock of powder blue georgette, unadorned in pastel shades, with hat in similar colorings. She carried a bouquet of blue delphinium, snapdragon and roses.

The bridegroom was supported by Mr. Arthur Pitts, and the ushers were Messrs. Dick and Ross Wilson, Arthur Beasley and Jack Matson.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at "Bishop's Close." Mr. Bishop and Mrs. Schofield and Mr. and Mrs. Wilson receiving with the bridal party in the drawing-room, which was prettily arranged with bowls of pink rhododendrons, pink lupins, anemones and mauve iris. The guests then repaired to the garden where the buffet luncheon was served.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Wilson left by motor on a honeymoon trip, the bride traveling in a becoming sports frock of pink with hat en suite and a cream tailored coat. On their return they will take up their residence in their new home on Pemberton Road.

Lake Hill Committee Socials—Lake Hill Community Centre held a most enjoyable military 500 party on Monday evening. There were fourteen tables in play and the winners were as follows: First Mrs. Green sr., Mr. P. Hawes, Mr. Mortimer and Mr. Douglas; second prize, Mrs. Fox, Mrs. Knowlton, Mr. Green and Mr. Taylor; third bid, Mrs. McDougall and Mr. Heathfield. The next monthly card party will be held on June 27. The Lake Hill Community Centre Social Committee will hold another of their popular dances on Wednesday, June 8. Orard's Orchestra will supply the music and refreshments will be served.

Conservative Card Party—The Victoria Women's Club Association and the Victoria successful card party on Monday evening in the club rooms under the convenship of Mrs. J. Mowatt, A. R. Colby acting as M.C. H. Webster won the first prize in the five hundred, and Mrs. MacKenzie received the ladies' first prize. Mrs. Durick was the winner of the ten-bid. Mrs. York won the ladies' first in the bridge game, and Fred Elliott the gentlemen's. Mrs. S. F. Tolmie presented the prizes to the winners. Refreshments were served, Mrs. H. Webster acting as convener. Dancing was enjoyed till midnight.

NEW COLORS
Amarillo, a sunny yellow, though soft, and Nymph pink, a trifling shade, are new shades smart for Summer.

NOVEL JEWELRY
Odd shaped pins set with colored stones and brilliants, forming a part of the evening gown's trimmings, the new bracelets and jeweled heels of evening slippers to match.

PRINCIPALS IN TO-DAY'S WEDDING

SOCIALS PRETTY WEDDING AT VICTORIA WEST

Miss Alexandrina S. Wood and Charles E. Lock United To-day

One of the first weddings of June took place this afternoon at St. Saviour's Church, Victoria West, at 2 o'clock when the Rev. E. Moss united in marriage Alexandrina Stewart Wood, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wood, Craigflower Road, and Mr. Charles Edward Lock, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lock, of Devonshire, England, formerly of Victoria.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was dressed in white georgette, simply fashioned and trimmed with rhinestones and iridescent beads. The conventional wedding veil of fine net was attached to the head in cap shape and held in place by a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses, maidenhair fern and swansons.

Miss Edith Wood, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, and was dressed in peach-colored crepe de Chine, and carried a bouquet of pink carnations and asparagus fern. Mr. Gordon Ballentine supported the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Lock left on the afternoon boat for Seattle, and on their return to Victoria will reside at 133 Arm Street. The bride's traveling gown was of rose-wood crepe-back satin with which was worn a hat to match and sand-colored cloak.

Among the many gifts received by the bride couple was a silver tea service from the staff of the B.C. Telephone Company, of which the bride has been a member of the operating staff for a number of years.

down to dinner. Rev. C. A. Lucas performed the ceremony and the service was fully choiced. The bride's sister, Mary, supported the bride, and sang very beautifully a solo "The Crown." White satin remain composed the lovely bridal frock, with touches of blue, silver and pink, designed with an underkirt of georgette embroidered in blue and velled with silver lace. The train of woven silver and satin was bordered with blue and covered by the beautiful veil of Honiton lace which fell from a narrow band and flat side pieces of orange blossom. The bridal shower bouquet was worked with roses, lilies of the valley and bouvardia and finished with silver ribbons. Miss Edna Goodall, the bridesmaid, wore blue tulle shot with rose, with a tulle train and arm basket of Radiance roses and carnations strewn with pink and blue ribbons. Her picture hat was of silver lace. The best man was Mr. Ronald Davis. Mrs. Weatherston, who received the guests at the Ambassadors, had her handsome black panne velvet frock finished with a large diamond buckle at the waist, and the color note was given by a spray of roses and fuchsias. Mr. and Mrs. Davis will spend their honeymoon at the mountains. For traveling the bride chose grey tweed, with a fisher fur wrap and smart felt hat in powder blue tones. The bridegroom's gift to the bride was a diamond brooch and the bridesmaid a black opal earring. Noticed among her lovely wedding presents were some from her former school friends in Victoria, British Columbia, where the bride was educated and lived for many years.

Man of Sixty Finds the Remedy

"Fruit-a-tives" Corrected
Bladder and Bowel Trouble

MR. THOS. GRAHAM
Mr. Thos. Graham of Oshawa, Ont., has found the key to health. Writing about it he says: "Just 1 line to tell you what good 'Fruit-a-tives' has done me. I am 60 years old and tried all kinds of medicine for bladder and bowel trouble which used to keep me from work a month at a time, until I started taking 'Fruit-a-tives.' Thanks to 'Fruit-a-tives' I have worked steadily for four years without a sick day. I have never felt better than I do now." "Fruit-a-tives" substitutes radiant health for sickness. It effectively overcomes constipation, bladder and kidney troubles because it is the kind of remedy that nature meant us to use—the juices of fresh, ripe fruits, intensified and combined with strengthening tonics.

You have a right to that "Glad-to-be-alive" feeling. Give "Fruit-a-tives" a chance to restore your health. If you are constipated or worried with bladder trouble begin taking "Fruit-a-tives" to-day. 25c and 50c everywhere. (Adv.)

100,000 NEW HOMES A YEAR NOW BEING BUILT IN BRITAIN

During the eight years which have elapsed since the war more than 800,000 new houses have been erected in Great Britain, or more than 100,000 a year, and the larger part of these houses was erected under state aid, according to figures received by Bankers Trust Company of New York from its British information service. In England alone the total number of houses built was 712,553, up to the end of November, 1926. Of these, 440,053 were erected with state assistance and the balance, 272,500, without state assistance. In Scotland the total was 53,721 houses erected, 46,019 with state aid and 7,702 without; and in Wales of a total of 42,518 houses erected, 26,818 were built with state aid and 15,700 independently.

The average prices of houses contracted for by local authorities has ranged from £373 for non-parlor houses and £424 for parlor houses in 1923 to £443 for non-parlor and £499 for parlor houses in 1926. These prices exclude the cost of land, roads and sewers. The increase in the price of parlor houses during 1926 is said to be more apparent than real as in the second half of the year prices were raised by the inclusion of houses built at abnormally high costs.

Beginning with October of this year the building subsidies will be reduced; on this account it is expected that during the current year before October 1, every effort will be made to take advantage of the existing rates of subsidy, and therefore that even a greater number of state aided houses will be built than during last year.

The Government's policy is to throw the responsibility for providing houses upon the existing building industry without financial assistance from public funds, and in the meantime to reduce as far as possible the increasing drain upon the exchequer by a smaller grant per house. However, the housing problem is said to be not entirely solved as there is a need for about 200,000 houses a year in order to meet normal demands and to overcome the arrears accumulated since the war. It is the view of qualified persons that if the reduction of the subsidy discourages the building of working class houses the housing problem will become more difficult, and that unless there is a decrease in building costs, higher rents will prevail.

The preparatory service of the Gorge Presbyterian Church, Tillamook Road, will be held on Friday evening at 8 o'clock, when Dr. Hewitt of China, who has spent over thirty years in China, will address the service, and our communion will be held on Sunday morning, when the pastor, Rev. Daniel Walker, will give the message and conduct the service.

The proceeds of the two recitals will be shared equally between the new Cathedral fund and the Solartum. Costumes specially made for the occasion will be worn by the little dancers, who will range from tiny tots to the more advanced exponents of toe dancing.

CHINA MUST END HER OWN TROUBLE

Foreign Intervention Not Necessary, Says R. Dollar, Steamship Company Head

Ottawa, June 1.—"Readjustment of affairs in China must be by the Chinese and without foreign intervention," declared Robert Dollar, world renowned shipping magnate, who possibly enjoys the confidence of the leaders of Chinese national life more than any other living white man, in an interview here last night. He is a former Ottawa boy. "A most astounding development of commerce will take place in China," declared Mr. Dollar. "It awaits only a stable and steady government, which must come. When? I wish I could answer that. But with a civil war raging throughout China, trade and commerce has flourished tremendously. When the war is over, imagine the development. And imagine the effect upon Canada, the neighbor of China. When this development comes. Already Vancouver is feeling the benefit of Chinese trade."

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. E. H. Ridewood and her children have gone out to their Summer cottage at Patricia Bay to spend the Summer months.

A very pleasant evening was spent on Thursday when Mr. and Mrs. E. Holt, Belcher Avenue, entertained at a party given in honor of Miss Edith Barr and Mr. J. Barr, who are leaving Victoria on a visit to the Old Country. Among the guests present were Mr. and Mrs. G. Hutchinson, Sylvia Hutchinson, Mr. and Mrs. Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. Nicholson, Mr. and Mrs. Hardisty, F. Hardisty, A. Hardisty, D. Hardisty, Douglas Hardisty, Verna Holt and Miss E. Evans.

FOUND GIRL GUIDES IN EVERY PORT ON THEIR WORLD TOUR

While there were evidences everywhere in China of the unsettled state of affairs, the two English Guides escaped without any unpleasant experiences, and both were much heartened by the readiness of the Chinese to co-operate in the Girl Guide movement. They see in this ready acceptance of the guide teachings, the nucleus on which the years may build up a better understanding between the natives and the foreigners.

HELPS INTERNATIONAL GOODWILL

Everywhere in their journeys, Miss Trotter and Miss Wanklyn have been greatly impressed by the value of the Girl Guide movement as an important factor in international understanding and good will. Girls of every nationality meet on an equal footing in the exemplification of the guide laws, and the teaching of such subjects as care of the health and first aid have far-reaching effect in raising the standards of the home and the community. Both Guides keenly regret their inability to remain in Victoria for the big world camp to be held here shortly, but they have already overstayed their leave of absence by several months and have to leave for England on Thursday of this week. Miss Wanklyn and Miss Trotter are guests at the James Bay Hotel, and both are charmed with Victoria, its beauty and size of spaciousness, and the crowded cities of the Orient having a particular appeal to them.

Brown and you

B Brown's a good fellow, but he's different from you. He isn't successful the way you are. He's got a funny taste in clothes. He doesn't understand what makes a good show or a good book. He doesn't golf. He isn't popular, either—Brown. Not the way you are. Oh, Brown is as far removed from you as the North Pole!

B But—at that, there are certain things. Both of you feel suddenly old when you see a pack of kids swimming frankly in the creek. Both of you get a tight throat when you watch men hoist the flag. Both of you fiercely want your sons to grow up into fine, respected men. Both of you want to get on, and save money, and cut some kind of figure in the world. Both of you get hungry along about dinner-time.

B Not so very different, after all. In lots of ways Brown and you are pretty close. In the human, simple things. Has it ever struck you how closely advertising deals with just those simple human things? Advertising gets down to fundamentals—the health of your children, the happiness of your wife, your comfort. It tells ways to save money and time and energy. It touches you in a hundred ways—in the ways that make you and that good fellow, Brown, pretty much alike.

B Read the advertising in the newspapers. It is important. It is human and helpful. It is dedicated to Brown and you.

If it's advertised, you can be sure it serves an important home need.

LINDY LOOKS HER OVER

During all the hubbub which ensued upon his arrival in Paris Captain Charles A. Lindbergh feared that souvenir hunters might damage his aeroplane "Spirit of St. Louis." So immediately after President Doumergue decorated him with the Legion of Honor he returned to Le Bourget aerodrome to examine it, as pictured here. He found it intact.

OPTIMISTIC CROP REPORTS IN ALBERTA

Edmonton, June 1.—"First class" are the words that Hon. George Hoadley, Minister of Agriculture of Alberta, applies to Alberta crop prospects. He says that in his thirty-six years' experience in Alberta he has never known the land to be so generally in good condition, and the reports that are coming in give every reason to expect a big season.

Not more than five per cent of the acreage has been unsuitable for seeding, says Mr. Hoadley, and there is a large amount of newly broken land to effect this. The sum total of wet land on which it has not been possible to put in crop is small and will not greatly affect the harvest results. There has been more summer fallow land than usual, and on account of the moisture a great deal of stubble land has been seeded.

Generally speaking, the Minister says, the grain is now standing higher than ever before at this date, and everywhere it is showing up well and sturdy as a result of the cool growing weather.

From the Peace River country word has come of "marvelous prospects" and the province at large has an outlook thus far of the very best for a bumper crop.

Boys' Camp at Beaver Lake to Reopen on July 4

The Summer camp for boys, operated by the Y.M.C.A. at Beaver Lake, will open on July 4, and a large attendance is expected. Boating, swimming, baseball, woodcraft and nature study, athletic contests and many other activities are being prepared for the youngsters.

The catering arrangements are being given careful preparation, this being one of the most important aspects of the holiday. In rainy weather the pavilion with its cheery fireplace and its excellent supply of reading matter and indoor games will provide pastimes for the lads.

96,000 Women and Children Served by THE RED CROSS

THE future of Canada lies in the Home. In their honest and loving endeavors to build healthy homes, thousands of Canadian mothers are handicapped by lack of knowledge.

Three years ago, the Red Cross organized its first class in Home Nursing. Since then, 12,000 women and girls, in 800 groups, have received instruction.

They have gained a sound knowledge of the principles of good health... care of the sick... feeding of babies and children. They have become better managers of their homes... enabled to instruct less well-informed neighbors.

With the aid of local leaders, doctors, women's organizations, the Red Cross Organizing Nurse forms a class. The course of 12 lectures comprises instruction by a nurse... practical demonstration... talks by the local doctor. It is simple but thorough. Nor does the Red Cross forget our new citizens from other lands.

At Halifax, Quebec and St. John it maintains Seaport Nurseries. Here immigrant mothers and children are made welcome. For the babies and young children, nourishing food... baths... a restful sleep. For the mothers, a few quiet hours in a comforting home atmosphere... encouragement for the next stage in their journey.

A Registered Nurse notes any needed medical attention. "Follow up" cards are sent to the Province where they are going. On arrival, the Red Cross puts them in touch with health authorities... they are started at once on the road to healthy living.

During the past few years, the Nurseries have served over 84,000 women and children, with "follow up" work for over 12,000 families.

In these and other ways, the Red Cross is supplementing and supporting the work of health authorities and doctors, with untold benefit to thousands of Canadian homes. To YOU it appeals for support in this great task.

NEWS IN BRIEF

The Britannia Post of the Canadian Legion of the British Empire Service League will stage a smoking concert June 3—the King's birthday.

A full grown panther was seen this morning on the West Road, Saanich, by Mrs. Moffat of Rose Street. The animal leaped across the highway half a mile south of Observatory Road.

The Rotary Club luncheon to-morrow at the Empress Hotel will be addressed by Rotarian H. W. Mayhew, managing director of the Sidney Roofing and Paper Co. Limited, on the pulp and paper industry.

Boys who paraded in comic costume for the torch light parade last Wednesday are asked to send their names to the secretary of the club, at the Empress Hotel, for the purpose of receiving a certificate of appreciation.

Dr. A. F. Barton will deliver a lecture in the New Thought Temple this evening at 8 o'clock. The subject will be "What's in a Name"—a lesson in numerology. After the lecture Dr. Barton will answer personal questions and give demonstrations of this latest method of character analysis.

The new light bus to be operated by Saanich on the Lake Hill route has been delivered and will be in service this week. The car has a seating capacity for fifteen passengers, but will carry a substantial overload. The large car to be replaced will be kept in reserve for emergencies.

Craigflower Parent-Teacher Association will hold a regular monthly meeting on Thursday, June 2, at 8 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. E. Moss. The subject will be a talk on the north country and Miss D. White will be the vocalist for the evening. As this is the last meeting of the term a special invitation is extended to all interested.

The members of Typographical Union, No. 201 and of Woman's Auxiliary No. 65 will decorate the graves of their deceased members on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The services will start promptly at that hour after meeting at the West game of Ross Bay Cemetery.

Thomas Mould pleaded guilty and was fined $25 in the city police court this morning when he was arraigned on a charge of driving to the common danger on Rockland Avenue. Inspector Boulton and Constable Varney laid the information against the accused.

Realty foreclosure proceedings in Supreme Court, by the estate of the late Emilie Anna Bebbington against Lee Sheek Yew and Lee Woy were concluded yesterday afternoon by Mr. Justice Murphy. Judgment by consent was entered against Lee Sheek Yew for $4,100 and $250 costs, and judgment by default was entered against Lee Woy.

The Saanich Council will this evening complete estimates for the year and endeavor to strike the mill rate. Taxing improvements will enable a lower mill rate to be struck, but will bear heavier upon improved farms than will adherence to the single tax policy. In the execution of this final decision on taxing policy will be deferred to a special session.

H. B. Olson and A. E. Chilton gave evidence this morning in the City Police Court in the case against S. C. Sangster, charged with assaulting the latter of these two witnesses. Sangster himself will testify against Olson and Chilton, who are similarly charged. Magistrate Jay has to settle which of the three men is to blame for the scuffle which took place on May 29 on Menzies Street and in which all three were implicated.

On Friday, June 3, King's birthday, post office arrangements will be as follows: Forenoon deliveries by letter carrier will be made. The money order wickets will close at 1 p.m. General delivery and registration wickets will close at 6:30 p.m., and postage stamps will be sold up to that hour. All mails due to be dispatched will be made up as usual. Street letter box collections will be made in downtown districts from morning to evening, and in outside districts in the evening only.

Notes on the "Canadian Farmer and Canadian Law," prepared by Inspector T. W. S. Parsons of the Provincial Police, are appearing monthly now in the British Columbia Public Service Bulletin. The series is a valuable addition to common sense guides for Canadian law dealing in plain language with the problems likely to be met by farmers in the execution of their daily work. It can be obtained on application to the Bureau of Provincial Information.

Firemen were called upon last night to struggle with flames at the Victoria Press Factory, and for about two hours men from headquarters and outstations fought with water and chemicals in the threatened building. The material with which the mattresses are stuffed being most inflammable, it was difficult to check the spread of the fire, and the flames had got into the rollers of the machinery before the fire-fighters finally got the blaze under control. By 10 o'clock the building was deserted again.

The lacrosse dance next Friday evening at the Sons of Canada Hall points to the bringing to Victoria of one of United States leading jazz bands from New York. The music will be provided by a noted dancer and producer, will stage a contest in the latest ballroom dance and sensations of the East between three of the famous "Carolina" dancers of the West, Miss Virginia Pasquale of Portland, Miss Emeline Collier of Seattle, and Miss Saville Haines of San Francisco. The dance is similar to the Black Bottom and the Charleston, combining the intricate steps of both.

PREPARATION KEY TO ACHIEVEMENT

Albert Sullivan Tells Students of Value of Preparedness in Life

An instructive talk to members of the faculty and students of the Victoria High School on "Preparation" was given by Albert Sullivan, Inspector of schools, at the High School yesterday. Preparation for the coming examinations which the students will have to face was dealt with by Mr. Sullivan, who stated that it was not only for the examinations during school life that thorough preparation was necessary, but in later years required equal, and not greater preparation to meet and conquer. As an example, Mr. Sullivan took the case of the famous Captain Lindbergh, who stated that he had never been "But," said Mr. Sullivan, "how did Lindbergh manage this great feat? How did he finally overcome the great task that lay before him? It would not, and could not, come by chance. It was not until this man had studied and planned for weeks and months in preparation for the flight that he was finally able to reach his goal."

Mr. Sullivan mentioned another outstanding man and his work, Joseph Conrad, and how "Lord Jim" he told how this great writer worked steadily for twenty-one hours on the last pages of his book.

"In fact," said Sullivan, "no goal can be reached unless it is approached by the road of honest preparation." He closed with the quotation: "As we prepare, so we succeed."

MARATHON RACE FOR WESTERN TITLE PLAYED HERE

Runners To Contest Long Route In July

First Marathon Race to Be Held in This City Will Determine Western Candidate for Canadian Olympic Team; Many Local Runners Expected to Compete as Well as Men From Mainland and Prairie Provinces; Will Be Part of Diamond Jubilee Celebrations

A marathon race over the full 26 miles and 362 yards will be held in Victoria in connection with the Diamond Jubilee celebrations. It was announced this morning. The race will be open to amateur runners from anywhere in Western Canada. The winner will be heralded as the West's candidate for recognition in connection with the Canadian team which is to go to the Olympic Games in Amsterdam next year.

Billy Kennedy, chairman of the sports committee of the celebrations, expects that this event will make a great popular appeal to runners throughout the West and will arouse such interest among Victorians as to insure one of the greatest crowds that has ever attended an athletic event of any kind in this city.

COURSE TALKED OF

It is possible that the start will be made from the front of the Parliament Buildings and the runners will proceed to the Cordova Bay cut-off on the East Saanich Road just past Hamsterley, follow the waterfront around Gordon Head and Oak Bay to Government Street on Dallas Road, and finish in front of the Empress Hotel. The course will be carefully measured so that the runners may be sure of competing over the regulation marathon distance.

The race will undoubtedly draw large numbers of local runners. The ten-mile race on Good Friday under the auspices of the Britannia-Post, Canadian Legion, drew no less than twenty starters, and most of the runners in the ten-mile race were in good condition. Most of those who took part are thought to be able to stand the marathon distance.

In addition to many local entries it is expected that many runners from Vancouver and other points on the Mainland, as well as from Alberta and Saskatchewan will come here to try their luck over the long route.

The event promises to be one of the outstanding features of the celebrations, and the sports committee will work hard to see that it is made a great success.

A splendid programme of sports has been arranged by the sports committee for the two-day celebrations.

TRACK AND FIELD MEET

Chairman Kennedy announces that on Friday the Vancouver Island track and field championships will be staged at the Royal Athletic Park. This meet will be open to athletes from various parts of Vancouver Island, and the winners will compete in the B.C. championships, leading up to the Olympic try-outs. A feature of the programme at the Royal Athletic Park will be the B.C. log-chopping championship, which will attract considerable sections of the Province. Valuable prizes will be awarded the winners.

On Friday evening the sports committee will have charge of a water carnival in front of the Causeway, and the log-rolling championship of British Columbia will be decided there. This will be a spectacular event.

On Saturday morning there will be a lacrosse game between Victoria and New Westminster, with bicycle races during the intervals.

Baseball games, lawn bowling and an all-day cricket match are planned for Saturday also.

HORSE RACING

New York, June 1.—Although $1500 was about the limit of the purses which rewarded the winning owners yesterday, the post-Memorial Day racing programme brought some good brushes at Belmont, Churchill Downs and Thoroughbred.

K. E. Hitt's What'll I Do surprised with a victory over J. E. Widener's Fairness, odds-on favorite, in the fourth at Belmont. Sands on Fairness took the lead at the start, but the early effort told and the mare with the question mark name came along fast to cop the purse by a head. What'll I Do with Ambrose up was backed at 2 to 1 while Fairness was 9 to 10 and carried the heavy impost of 124 pounds. Under light weight and Jockey McAliff, C. C. Cosen's Recreation, at 15 to 1 to win, placed third.

Hoots were splashing through heavy mud at Churchill Downs and the weather was reflected in the number of spectators and the times of the horses. Comrade, Grump up, won the $1500 Strand purse for the Shoe String stable and paid his backers $9 on an $2 investment. Paris and Mally Jones were second and third.

On the Canadian track entries was the $1500 Inferno handicap, restricted to three-year-olds and up, foaled in the Dominion. Cloth Hall with Fisher up took the purse with a mile in 1:41 4-5, leading Attack and Thorndyke to the tape.

Liveliest Games of Season Produce Few Wonderful Features

Ruth's Home Runs, Harris's Five Hits and Neun's Triple Play Outstanding

Yankees Make Double-killing of Athletics; Giants Win After a Bad Slump

New York, June 1.—Remarkable performances at bat and in the field went down in the big league record book today as the result of the liveliest games this season.

A single day saw ten home runs, two of them by Babe Ruth, several one-hundred-per-cent batting averages and an unassisted triple play, the second in two days.

Seven of the ten homers were made in Philadelphia where Ruth poked out his contributions in games against the Athletics, the first helping the Yankees to a 10-3 victory over the Athletics in the opener of a double-header and the second aided in a 16-5 walloping administered to the same team.

Ruth's brace of homers gave him 16 for the season and carried him ahead of his mark at the same stage in 1921, his record year, while tying his number made at this time last year.

In the same two games, Gehrig, Lazzeri, Pat Collins and Koenig came through with homers, while Fox tallied one for the home team.

Roy made one for the Giants, Doult for the St. Louis Cardinals, and Tolson one for the Chicago Cubs.

HARRIS'S GREAT HITTING

Joe Harris, of the National League leading Pirates, in a game with the Cubs had hit four times in four chances when he came up in the ninth with the score tied and another hit seemed almost too much to expect but Harris tripled and won the game 10-9.

Even more remarkable than any batting performance was the one-man triple killing made by Johnny Neun, Detroit first baseman. Coming in the ninth it took the Cleveland Indians' breath away and enabled the Tigers to win 1-0.

Bob McGraw, a Brooklyn castoff now with the Cardinals who picked up the champions in second place behind the Pirates, held the Cincinnati Reds to five hits, beating them 1-0.

Jess Fitts, of Brooklyn, granted but six hits, beating Boston 3-2. By this victory Brooklyn moved into fifth place which is higher than they have been in some time.

WHITE SOX HUNG ON

The Chicago White Sox, the big surprise of the American League, also were among the winners and clung close to the ranks by their 7-2 win from the St. Louis Browns.

After losing a great many games in a serious slump, the Giants took one from the Phillies 13-4, while the American League, Cleveland, beat the Red Sox, unexpectedly beat the Washington Senators, 4-1.

Canadian Footballers in N.Z. Win Three Games in Row Easily

Vancouver, June 1.—The all-star Canadian football team now touring New Zealand has increased its victories to three since leaving Auckland. According to word received here today the Canadians defeated Wanganui seven goals to nil and Manawapu six goals to nothing.

In their first game the tourists defeated Taranaki ten to one.

Outside Teams Coming To Aid In Lacrosse Revival

Seattle Team Will Play Here on Saturday and New Westminster Royals Will Be Opponents for Victoria on July 2; Victoria Will Not Lag Behind Other Towns in Canada in Putting Game Back on a Sure Foundation; International League Now Talked Of Victoria is not lagging behind in the nation-wide movement to revive lacrosse, the Canadian Summer pastime, which has recently taken such a firm hold on the athletes of England, the United States and Europe. A number of prominent local sportsmen are now behind the movement to put the game on a sure footing here and have in mind a great programme which should appeal to the fans.

It is realized that a local league between the two senior teams, Sidney and the Capitals, will not make a very strong appeal to the fans, but it is believed that fixtures between these two will make it possible to keep a large number of athletes in first-class shape and produce a really strong team to represent Victoria in the inter-city games which are planned.

INTER-CITY LEAGUE

It is not likely that an inter-city league will be organized this year, but the foundations are to be well and truly laid. It is quite possible that next year will see a league with an international flavor to it in full bloom, with teams entered from Seattle, Portland, Tacoma, Vancouver, New Westminster and Victoria. It is realized by the men behind the game on the Coast that a league of this kind would do more to revive and restore lacrosse to public favor than anything else that could be done.

In order to foster the plan for the inter-city league local officials plan exhibition games with outside clubs. The first game will be played on Saturday afternoon at the Royal Athletic Park, when the pride of Seattle will be here to oppose Victoria. The Americans have a very fine team and intend to press the locals all the way.

NEW WESTMINSTER COMING

Following up the visit of Seattle arrangements have been made to bring the New Westminster Royals to this city on July 2 in connection with the Diamond Jubilee celebrations. Westminster always have fielded good teams, and this year they are reported to have called all the good men who have wandered away to other towns back home, so that the Royal City may muster a side that will sweep everything else in Canada off their feet and gain the trip to the Olympic Games at Amsterdam next year. The winners of the Mann Cup this year will make the trip.

Victoria will provide stiff opposition for Westminster, for the team plans to be in the pink of condition and would also like to make the trip to the Olympics.

All-star First Division Eleven Win From Bakers

Score 3-0 in First of Exhibition Games in Preparation For Visit of Scotch Eleven

In an exhibition game to keep the local soccer players in condition for the forthcoming visit of the Scotch football eleven, a picked team from the first division defeated Rennie & Taylors, champions of the Wednesday League, 3-0 at the Royal Athletic Park last night.

John Watt, inside right for the All-Stars, opened the scoring early in the first half. The second goal came from a free kick taken by Johnny Peden. The Bakers rallied at their period but were unable to beat Bridges.

Shortly after the start of the second half Ernie Warren found the net with one of his fast drives from the penalty line.

Next week the Wednesday League will select an All-Star team to oppose the first division eleven. Football officials intend to play several games during the next two weeks in order to make sure of picking the best possible team to oppose the Scots.

The teams were:

FIRST DIVISION

Bridges; Watt and Wagland; Hosmer, Spiers and Peden; Stewart, John Watt, Glancy, Warren and Cameron.

Rennie & Taylors—Lomas; Tupman and Gilbert; Whyte, McKinnon and Stewart; Taylor, Field, Speak, Merfield and Davis.

over Sacramento in the series opener here yesterday. The Stars started their scoring early, tallying two in the first inning, but the Bolons bunched five hits in the third and fourth frames to tie the score. Hollywood brought in two more in the fifth, and from then on retained the lead.

Seattle, June 1.—Los Angeles started the series against Seattle by taking a twelve-inning, free-hitting game, 7-5, here yesterday. The Angels kept to close lead until the sixth, when the Indians brought in three tallies for a one-point lead, only to have the invaders tie the score at five in the seventh. Los Angeles' batsmen bunched three hits in the twelfth, to score twice and win.

"Big Bill" Replaces Suzanne As Drawing Card For Wimbledon

French Girl Will Be Missed But Tilden Will Be on Famous Centre Court

Helen Wills, Now Writing For The Times, Looks For Great Games This Month

(By HELEN WILLS)

Last June the All-England Lawn Tennis Club held its fiftieth anniversary. Fifty years had passed since the first tournament took place. Cupidously enough the club, in the earliest days of its existence, was called the "All-England Croquet Club."

At Wimbledon, where the club now has its courts and great grandstand, there are no signs of croquet. At least I did not discover any when I was there. The game to which the croquet club gave a start in life has turned upon its benefactor and crowded it out completely.

Tennis at Wimbledon has grown to immense importance. The tournament each year is given two weeks, and during this time great numbers of people come to see the games. Many enthusiasts are there every day.

EXPECT FINE TENNIS

The tennis last year was very interesting. Matches each day brought together the best players of England, France, Spain and America.

Equally interesting promises to be this year's tournament. All of the English women players who will be seen later in the Wightman Cup matches in the United States will be playing there. Mrs. Kathleen MacKane Godfrey will, undoubtedly, be playing as fine tennis as ever.

Miss Joan Fry, who has attracted much attention because of her youth and wonderful game, will probably be an improved player. Several of the younger English girls will be allowed to enter, among them Miss Eileen Bennet and Miss Betty Nuthall.

Senorita Lili Alvarez, the best woman player in Spain, is another promising entrant. She reached the finals last year and took part in a thrilling match with Mrs. Godfrey. She has been spending part of her time in England this year and has no doubt been playing with the best players there.

Miss Elizabeth Ryan, who has been on the Riviera all winter, winning almost all of the larger tournaments, will also be at Wimbledon. There is a chance that Mrs. Mallory's name may be found among those of the participants.

BILL REPLACES SUZANNE

Miss Suzanne Lenglen will not, of course, be there in June. For many years she has been one of the most attractive players at Wimbledon. Another great player will take her place, however, and will add color and interest to the meeting. William Tilden, who won at Wimbledon in 1920 and 1921, plans again to play on the famous centre court.

Callahan Victor In Bloody Fight Over His Old Rival Myers

Champion Retains His Title in Bitter Fight in Chicago; Myers Was Game

Chicago, June 1.—Mushy Callahan of Los Angeles won a judges' decision over Spug Myers of Pocatello, Idaho, after ten rounds of fighting at the Cubs Park last night in a successful defence of his world's junior welterweight title.

The victory reversed the decision of a contest indoors last winter. Myers fought gamely throughout and carried the fight to the champion in the final rounds, but could not catch up with the tremendous lead the coast battler had piled up.

Both boys were covered with blood from the third round on after Callahan opened a bad cut over Myers's left eye with a terrific right-hand smash.

BLOOD STREAMING

Callahan constantly played for the damaged optic and kept blood streaming down Myers's chest, from which it was smeared over them both.

Myers's best rounds were the second, when he knocked the Los Angeles boy into the ropes with a right-hand punch, the seventh, when he carried the fight to the champion in a continuous rally, as he did in the ninth and tenth.

Callahan, taller and two pounds heavier, overcame the left hand of his greater reach and speed.

Myers was cheered for his game effort and many in the crowd booed the judges' decision.

The bout, which opened the outdoor season, was witnessed by approximately 8,000 shivering fans.

U. of S. Basketball To Play "Y" Thursday

The University of Saskatchewan will put a team of basketball players on the floor at the Y.M.C.A. gymnasium on Thursday night, and will be opposed by an all-star quintet representing the Y.M.C.A. The game is expected to be a thriller all the way and much interest is being taken in it.

Right Hand Must Give Punch To Golf Shots

Long's Gives His Ideas in Regard to the Controversy Over Which Hand Plays Biggest Part in the Golf Stroke; The Left Arm Should Pull Club Down Until Waist High; Jones Tells of Some of His Humorous Experiences

By BOBBY JONES

Of recent years there has been considerable discussion concerning the part of the left hand in the golf stroke. There are those who contend that the left hand is the controlling member while others say that the stroke must be two-handed. It seems to me that both are right to a certain extent, the apparent difference of opinion resulting from a misunderstanding by protagonists of each side of what is meant by the other.

There can be no doubt whatsoever that the right hand must supply the punch. A purely left handed stroke could result only in a tame sliding contact with the ball. The crispness of the blow can be derived only from the right hand; and those who champion the left most strongly do not say that it is the dominant factor. The contention is simply that in making a stroke it is helpful to concentrate upon hitting with the left hand, the right being allowed to take care of itself.

Last year in Florida, following the advice of Jimmy Donaldson, I attempted in all my iron shots to hit mostly with my left hand and arm. Jimmy confined his entire attention and mine to that single point. At that time I was playing a moderately open stance, right foot advanced and shoulders turned well toward the hole. Obviously, Jimmy diagnosed my trouble to be hitting too quickly from the top of my swing. My right hand was taking command from the very beginning of the stroke with resulting loss of power and control at the moment of impact.

The natural effect of trying to exclude entirely my right hand from any part in the stroke was to exclude it out until I was in position to deliver the blow. The left hand was pulling down from the top, keeping both wrists cocked, like compressed springs, until the moment arrived when the right hand quite naturally and instinctively came forward, attempting to strike the ball. The trick was purely an act in timing and prevented expending the latent power of the stroke until it could be let loose at the ball.

This weekery well on the full shots where the force of the stroke compelled the right hand to come in at the proper moment; but I did not like to play full shots with the iron, and was making vain efforts to bring my right hand around in time to deliver a firm, straightforward blow. All through our preliminary play in England and the Amateur Championship I was making vain efforts to stop the fading iron shots which were carrying my ball always to the right of the green, especially if a left-hand wind were blowing.

POINTED OUT ERROR

Harold Hilton told me at St. Anne's that I was "playing across the ball," and Archie Compston made the same observation at Sunningdale. By that time, however, I had given up fighting the fade, and on the calm days the qualifying rounds I had it well under control. At St. Anne's, however, it was windy again and the battle had to be renewed. With what success can be seen from the fact that I was making vain efforts to bring my right hand around in time to deliver a firm, straightforward blow. All through our preliminary play in England and the Amateur Championship I was making vain efforts to stop the fading iron shots which were carrying my ball always to the right of the green, especially if a left-hand wind were blowing.

THE WORST EVER

And then there was the time when I was the goat. Playing with Harry Vardon in my first open tournament at Toledo in 1920, I attempted a foolish conservative stroke, a "hook" shot, which was a drive and run-up affair, the green being wide open in front, but well trapped at the back. We both had good drives some thirty yards apart. Following instructions, the officials and all started off as though beginning the round. Vardon stood in his tracks for a moment, bewildered.

After the drives we should walk off down the fairway as in actual play. Vardon's shot failed to clear the trees and he was instructed to back here, that was a practice shot."

OUTSMARTING EVANS

In the Western Amateur, the year Chick Evans beat me, I had a negro caddy, who worked one of the smartest tricks I have ever seen on a golf course. He felt a little ashamed of it at the time, but as it had no effect on the outcome of the match my conscience no longer troubles me.

In the morning round of our thirty-six hole match, Chick and I had a thoroughly even battle. The fifteenth hole at Memphis was then about four hundred yards in length and dog-legged to the left. Making the worst possible shot, I had sliced my drive to deep rough to the right, while Chick pulled into the rough in the angle of the dog-leg. My second shot was wild and swung away into a very nasty thicket over a brook. Apparently Chick had not seen my shot, for he came down to inspect the lie of his ball. My caddy, negro prize fighter, by the way, known as the Buntyn Kid, saw that Chick was undecided about the lie of the ball and the trees, so he walked casually up the fairway fifty yards or so toward the green, nonchalantly draped himself over my bag of clubs and exclaimed back at Chick, Chick looked at the caddy, then at the tree, and finally the green. To him there was but one thing to be deduced from the caddy's attitude. My ball must be on the green, and he must put his there also. He tried it, but finished in the same thicket with me, and in a worse place. I won the hole with a seven. I asked Chick why he took such a chance.

"Shucks," he said, "I looked at that caddy of yours and I thought you must be up against the flag."

But if you want to hear real good golf story, get Tommy Armour to tell you about the time he was beaten by "a mon, with a wooden leg." That is a Copyright, 1927, by Bell Syndicate, Inc.

Amateur Boxing Card At Tillicum Club on Saturday, June 18

The Tillicum Athletic Club will stage an amateur boxing card on June 18 at its boxing hall, 1305 Broad Street. The gymnasium is open every night for anyone wishing to train. Amateurs must have their amateur cards. Those who have not cards must apply at once at the Y.M.C.A. or the Tillicum Boxing Hall, in the evening. Entries are now being called for. Gold and silver medals and cups are being donated by lovers of amateur boxing. It is expected the army and navy will be well represented.

SNARED

A Story of One Wonderful Week
By MALCOLM DUART

"We've just moved here," she told him. "Papa will be awfully glad there's somebody he knows living in this house."

The young man called Smith had been looking from one to the other as they talked, a grin still adorning his face. Now he spoke with sly emphasis.

"Mr. Bodey here," he said, nudging his companion. "This Mr. Bodey now, is going to be mighty glad, too, that your father knows him."

He looked significantly at the older man and shook with silent laughter.

Bodey compressed his lips. "It ain't going to be as funny to you pretty soon as it is now," he said. "Know what you're going to do?"

Smith raised his eyebrows inquiringly.

"Us two—just you and me," said Bodey. "Are going to take some hoses and scratch out two miles of automobile tracks along that road."

"What in the world for?" inquired the girl, interrupting a protest from Smith.

"Because," said Bodey, soberly, "when your pa comes to ask whether you were here or not, there ain't going to be any tire marks to tell him the truth."

The girl stared. "What do you mean?"

"Just what I said," he returned. "Matter of fact, Miss Rollins, we ain't glad to see you. We—"

He held up his hand as she started to draw away from him. "Don't be afraid. We won't let you get hurt. But we dropped in kind of unexpected. We weren't looking for anybody we knew."

The girl turned toward her car. "I'd better go," she said.

Bodey stepped after her. "Stop a minute." She hesitated, her back toward him. "You can't go away," he continued.

She made a little rush in the direction of the machine, but before she could reach the car he was in front of her, his arms outstretched. The girl glanced to right and left. Her only possible deliverer was Smith, who stood with his hands in his pockets, watching with every evidence of enjoyment.

"Please!" she said to him. There was a frightened catch in her voice, and her hands were clasped.

The youth addressed himself to Bodey. "We're going to keep her here!" "Got to," said the man.

"Yum, yum," Smith remarked, and came to Miss Rollins's side. "I was wishing for company, and here you came!" He took her familiarly by the arm.

The girl's fear was rapidly mounting into panic. She struck at the boy with her free hand, uttering little gasping cries, and tugged in a vain effort to release his hold.

"Here!" said Bodey, sharply. "Let go of her!" Young Smith was using both hands now to restrain the struggling girl.

Bodey came up and tapped him on the breast with his forefinger. "I said, let go of her," he repeated.

Slowly and sulkily the youth dropped his arms. "Who made you the boss of me?" he demanded.

The man did not reply, but addressed himself instead to the young woman. Her eyes were wide with terror, and her lips were white.

"No use being scared," said Bodey. "This is a practical matter. I won't let this fellow here hurt you, but you can't do back to Chicago—not yet awhile. You've got to stay here."

"But I can't—I can't!" she cried. "I must go home! I told my mother I'd be back before lunch!"

"Sorry," said the man. "But I'm afraid Mrs. Rollins is going to be disappointed. You won't be back this month."

With a moan she sank to her knees. "Please let me go! Please let me!" She raised her hands to him appealingly.

He took a crumpled cigar from his pocket, bit off the end of it and put the remainder carefully away, and shook his head.

"Can't arrange it," he informed her, chewing upon the dry tobacco leaf. "Sorry to disoblige, but you've got to be a visitor here awhile."

The girl wilted lower, and patted her hands helplessly upon the weedy earth.

Young Smith walked around her, and squatted as he could look into her eyes.

"Say, sister," he began, "I'm going to tell you something. This 'Mr. Bodey' here, his name ain't Bodey. He's being going by the name of Brown."

She drew back a little.

"I just want to tell you what kind of a fellow he is," the youth proceeded, balancing on his toes. "If you're looking for a friend, I'm the one."

Bodey did not stir, except to jerk his head toward the rear of the yard. "Take a look at the horses, Smith," he said.

The boy raised his eyes, glared rebelliously for a moment and rose to his feet. "I ask you again—who made you boss of me?"

The older man produced his broken cigar, worried another piece from it with his teeth, and waited. Crumpling his young companion's shirttail away, and presently vanished around the corner of the house. Bodey held out his hand to the girl, and she placed her fingers timidly in his, he lifted her to her feet.

"Suppose that young fool'll be a trouble-maker," he said. "If you want, you can carry something to scare him off with, if I'm not around—a knife or something."

She was trembling, and her lips were twitching spasmodically. "Please," she whispered. "Please!"

"You better come inside now," he said. He took her by the arm, and obediently she turned and stumbled after him.

At the door, however, her body stiffened, and with a sudden jerk she tore her sleeve from his grasp. Like a flash she sped through the yard and to the road, her short skirts giving free play to her young limbs. One of her low shoes came off at the first step from her foot with a vigorous shake. As she splashed past the hedge, she could hear the steady beat of the man's footsteps behind her.

The face was not a long one. Bodey ran with an easy, loping stride that soon carried him alongside the frantic girl. As he reached out to seize her she threw herself face downward in the mud, holding to the ground as if it might protect her.

Without comment he stooped, lifted her, tossed her face downward over his shoulder, and deliberately started back toward the house. Though the girl was nearly as heavy as he, his step was sure and he bore his burden without apparent effort.

"Stop! I'll walk," she rapped, after they had gone half the distance.

He carefully set her on her feet, and taking the cigar from his pocket, tore off a third bite. "Don't do that way any more," he said mildly, as they resumed their journey. The girl staggered a little, and he balanced her by a touch upon the elbow.

Her shoes were lying in the road before the house, and she stopped to pick them up.

"These'd be nearly as bad as automobile tracks," he said, holding them aloft for her to see.

A seagull bridge crossed the ditch into the yard, two-score feet beyond the angle of the hedge, and the man and the girl crossed it together.

"Now you'll have to come inside," he said. "Guess I'll have to lock you in a room."

you give me if I tell you how to catch that rabbit?" The Weasel whispered.

"We'll let you help eat him," offered the Wolf.

"And we'll never tell him you helped us to catch him—if we do," and the Fox gnashed his teeth as he said that last. For very, very often he and the other bad chaps had tried to capture Mr. Longears, only to have him play some trick and get away.

"Do you know how we can get him this time?" snarled the Wolf.

"I do," whispered the Weasel, and since you will let me come to the party, I shall tell you a trick to play on him. In a little while Uncle Wiggley will come riding down the road outside with Uncle Butter the goat."

"How do you know this?" the Fox asked.

"Because I was slinking around Uncle Wiggly's bungalow," went on the sly animal, "and I heard him say over the telephone that he would go with Uncle Butter to try the goat's new auto. They will soon come down the road in front of your den, Mr. Wolf. And they will come very fast, for that goat wants to see what speed his new auto has."

"But if they whip past us how are we going to catch them?" the Fox wanted to know.

"Just dig a hole in the road," advised the sly Weasel. "Dig a deep hole and cover it with sticks, leaves and grass so it won't show. The goat will drive his auto over it, but the weight will make it fall into the hole. There will be a wreck and you can easily catch the rabbit then."

"It sounds like a good trick," softly intoned the Fox.

"We'll try it," agreed the Wolf.

"And don't forget your promise to me!" whispered the Weasel.

The two big bad chaps said they would let him come to the party they expected to have off Uncle Wiggly, and then they went out to dig the hole in the middle of the road. When it was dug they covered it with leaves sticks and grass so it hardly showed at all.

Then the Fox and Wolf, with the Weasel, hid in the bushes. But, unseen by them, a Cardinal bird had been watching what bad chaps did. And when the Cardinal bird saw the hole dug and covered, he softly whistled.

"Some trick is going to be played," I heard them mention Uncle Wiggly's name. The trick must be for him, but it is a dangerous trick. I must warn Uncle Wiggly of danger, because he is always kind to me, putting out crumbs for me to eat when I cannot find bugs or seeds. I will warn Uncle Wiggly of danger."

A little later the new auto of the goat gentleman came whizzing fast down the road, straight for the hole trap. Uncle Wiggly was holding his tall silk hat on his head, so it wouldn't blow off. The Fox and Wolf peered from the bushes, licking their hungry lips.

All of a sudden the Cardinal bird, whose feathers are bright red, flew back and forth across the road, in front of the auto and between it and the hidden hole. Uncle Wiggly caught the flash of sun on the bird's bright red wings.

"Stop! Stop!" cried the rabbit to the goat.

"Why so?" bleated the goat.

"Because I see a danger bird—he is giving us the red signal-of-danger!" cried Uncle Wiggly. "Stop, before it is too late!" The goat put on the brakes, and the auto stopped right at the edge of the hidden hole. And as the Police Dog trotted past just then, the bad chaps ran away. Then Uncle Wiggly got out and saw what danger he had escaped.

So he thanked the Cardinal bird. And when the hole was filled up the goat and rabbit rode safely on. And if the rag doll doesn't fall through the hole in her stocking so she can't go to the picnic with the baby carriage, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggly and the trade rat.

JAPANESE SAILOR DROPS IN STRAITS

Falls Overboard From In-bound Montreal Maru; Four-hour Search Unavailing

A Japanese member of the crew of the Yamashiro, Company's freighter, fell overboard yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Although every effort was made to find the body of the missing sailor, the search was unavailing. The accident happened about 8 o'clock in the morning, halfway between Cape Flattery and Race Rocks. The Montreal Maru cruised around in the vicinity until about 1:45 p.m., before giving up the search and proceeding to quarantine.

The vessel was bound from San Francisco to Vancouver, and after sailing practice at quarantine passed up the straits to the latter port.

A reward of $50 will be paid by the Yamashiro Company to anyone finding the body of the sailor. Anyone having information is asked to communicate with King Bros., customs brokers.

LUMBER DEMAND INCREASE DRASTICALLY

Chicago, May 31.—In its weekly review of the market, the American Lumberman said:

Total national sales of lumber are held down by persistent bad weather in the Middle West. In this extensive region, country demand especially is kept from developing because roads are in no condition for hauling, nor can outdoor work be undertaken.

In any case farmers have been able to give little thought to building, there being reports that some of them work all night when the ground is dry enough to permit seeding to be done.

MUCH CONSTRUCTION PLANNED

Despite all handicaps, building permits issued in twenty-five leading cities of the country during April showed a loss of only ten per cent from the totals for April of last year. But these cities have in plan an immense volume of construction, as permits for the first three months of the year exceeded those issued in the corresponding period of last year, and the difficulty of going ahead with this work of course slows down the taking out of further permits to producers.

Total permits issued in 205 leading cities during the first four months of this year were only eight per cent less than those for the same period of last year, and so far this year the totals have always shown a marked tendency to gain ground under the influence of good weather.

Softwood production is still curtailed, the manufacturers need the wisdom of avoiding any excess supply, so that market prices have remained firm. While consumer demand is behind normal for this time of year, its gradual seasonal growth is in fact strengthening the weak spots in the market, so that softwood quotations as a whole are safely above the low levels they have reached during Spring, though still unsatisfactory to producers.

SOFTWOOD SALES ARE HEAVY

Total softwood sales during the first nineteen weeks of this year exceeded the output by twelve per cent, whereas for the same period last year, the excess of sales above production was only four per cent.

Both southern and northern hardwoods have shown great strength recently, but the market for the highest set prices have had to bring them into line with the market. The more moderate advances are firmly held, so that the market is becoming stabilized and in better position for active trading.

The report on southern hardwood stocks of May 1 showed them covered by about the same percentage of orders as on the same date last year, but of course the trend of the market has changed the situation since the first of the month.

NEW HIGHWAY OPEN

Vancouver, June 1.—Banff-Windermere Highway will be open for travel to-day, according to information received by the British Columbia Automobile Club here from the branch office at Cranbrook. This is a popular motor road for tourists traveling from Spokane to Rocky Mountain National Park.

ON INSPECTION TOUR

Vancouver, June 1.—C. B. Foster, passenger traffic manager of the C.P.R., with headquarters at Montreal, and C. E. McPherson, assistant passenger traffic manager for western lines, are expected to arrive in Vancouver to-day in the course of an official inspection tour.

Owing to a breakdown in the starting mechanism of his machine, Pilot Percy Barnes of the airmail plane, operating between this port and Seattle, was unable to return to his plane the engine refused to start and the mail had to be transferred back to the ship. The plane will be at the Outer Docks until spare parts arrive from Seattle to-morrow.

WORK PROCEEDS ON GRAIN ELEVATORS

Concrete Construction at Port McNicholl Going up Rapidly

Montreal, June 1.—Foundation work is proceeding rapidly on the new addition to the C.P. grain elevators at Port McNicholl, which when completed will bring the storage capacity of these elevators up to 6,000,000 bushels, according to information given out at the headquarters office here.

Preliminary excavation was begun last week. It is expected the concrete foundations will be ready by June 30. Prior to that date, however, tenders will be let for the construction of the addition proper. The new elevators will have a capacity of 2,000,000 bushels and will follow the line of the present C.P.R. elevators at that port, being concrete in construction throughout. This new addition will facilitate handling of grain at Port McNicholl and will enable the C.P.R. to handle considerable more cargo during the rush seasons. It is expected the new elevators will be ready this year.

MARINE NOTES

With over 4,000 tons of cargo on board and nearly 300 passengers, the Canadian-Australian Line motorship Arangi will arrive from Vancouver at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon en route to Honolulu, Auckland and Sydney, N.Z. After taking on passengers, mail and a few freight shipments here, she will clear about 9 o'clock.

To load 700,000 feet of lumber at this port for the Atlantic seaboard the freighter Capt. is due here to-morrow morning. The Erviken is expected for lumber on Friday.

The Canadian Government Merchant Motorship, the Ocean Observer, was due to arrive here with about seventy-five tons of general cargo for discharge at Ogden Point.

The Kingley Navigation Company's freighter Rochelle will arrive here Friday afternoon from California ports, according to advice received by King Bros., local agents. The vessel has 235 tons of general cargo for discharge here, and will afterwards proceed to James Island to put off 400 tons of fuel oil.

The Imperial Oil Company's tanker, Mina Brea, was expected to get away from Yarrow's Limited to-day after having her engines repaired.

Ss. Nootka, the freighter which is being recommissioned at the Victoria Machinery Depot for operation in the West Coast fish oil and freight service by the B.C. Coast Steamship Service, was hauled out yesterday for cleaning and painting. She will be ready for service within a few days.

Ira Bronson, president of the Puget Sound Navigation Company, Capt. Alex. Peabody, vice-president, George W. Leat, director, and Capt. W. G. Mitchell, general manager, will visit this city next Tuesday. It was announced by E. E. Blackwood, local agent.

CUSTOMS RECEIPTS UP

Vancouver, June 1.—Customs receipts for May at the port of Vancouver, which ran to $1,495,000 showed a substantial increase over the figure for last May, when the receipts were $1,462,800. April figures were slightly below those of last year, but the May increase evens up the difference.

RUTH ALEXANDER TO ARRIVE LATE
FROM CALIFORNIA

Ss. Ruth Alexander of the Pacific Steamship Company's California service, due here to-morrow night, will not arrive until 6 o'clock Friday morning, according to word received by W. M. Allan, local agent to-day. Before leaving the Ruth took an excursion to Ensenada, and was four hours late in clearing from San Francisco.

WEST COAST SERVICE

Ss. Princess Maquina, operated by the C.P.R. in the West Coast run, will leave here this evening at 11 o'clock for West Coast ports.

COL. WILBY AGAIN HEADS INSTITUTE

Re-elected President at Annual Meeting Last Night; Support Needed For Work

Col. A. W. R. Wilby was re-elected to the presidency of the Victoria Seamen's Institute at the annual general meeting of that body last night in the Sailors' Club. Equilmait, Rev. Erickson, Equilmait was chosen vice-president.

Others officers elected were: Secretary-treasurer, Arthur Coles; committee, Capt. R. P. Matheson, Mrs. Sawyer, Mrs. Gordon Smith, Major P. V. Longstaffe, Miss Pooley, Capt. Parker, Commander G. P. Clarke, Mrs. Thompson and Mrs. Cave, the latter two representing the ladies' guilds of the Connaught Seamen's Institute and the Sailors' Club respectively.

MORE MONEY NEEDED

The annual reports of the president and secretary showed that a great deal had been done for visiting sailors during the year, and proved a necessity for an increase in funds for carrying on the work.

MANY REGISTERED

Sailors had paid $972 during the year for beds at the Sailors' Club alone, it was reported. Taking into consideration the fact that fully half of the beds taken by these, 1,350 had been paid for, 1,044 were given free.

The Connaught Seamen's Institute reported 2,334 sailors registered, 100 free meals given and 150 free beds.

The financial statement for the year showed the institute to be in debt $3,000. Income for the year was $3,366.32, comprising $2,687.73 from the Sailors' Club, $1,067.81 from the Connaught Institute, and $1,610.79 from the Victoria general committee. The last item includes $724.91 from the British Sailors' Society.

EXPENDITURES

Principal expenditures during the year were: For Equilmait—Taxes, $700; insurance, $200; Sailors' Club staff, $2,000; laundry, $275; water, $80; repairs and supplies, $60; fuel, $150; telephone, $78. For the Connaught Institute—Fuel, $160; caretaker, $200; wood and lighthouse boxes, $10.

The total income for the Equilmait Sailors' Club work was $2,687.73; for the Connaught Seamen's Institute, $1,067.81, including $398.15 collected on tag day. Subscribers had given $490, including the Provincial Government grant, $200; city grant, $250; Equilmait grant, $50.

FINANCES

A discussion on the finances of the club followed the reading of this statement, and Mr. Coles explained that $2,500 was required annually to finance the work in Victoria, and toward this, the British Sailors' Society, which owns the Equilmait Sailors' Club, contributes only $600 monthly. A short time ago, however, the attention of the British Sailors' Society had been called to this matter, he said, and a cable message received two days ago stated information concerning the funds would be sent.

Major P. V. Longstaffe indicated that ex-service clubs have since the war become greatly interested in sailors' organizations, and a resolution was passed suggesting that the matter of co-operation with ex-service clubs and the appointment of a chaplain be left in the hands of the general committee.

A motion was carried by Rev. F. C. Chapman of Equilmait and Major Longstaffe.

WILL BE ON COAST LATE THIS MONTH

SIR HENRY THORNTON

Prince Rupert, June 1.—F. G. Dawson, a director of the Canadian National Railways, who returned here yesterday from a directors' meeting held at Montreal, announced that Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Government line, will leave for the coast late in June, en route for Honolulu to spend a vacation.

Canadian National Earnings Jump

Montreal, June 1.—Increases of $1,497,533.75, or 7.39 per cent, in gross earnings, and $75,219.47, or 2.75 per cent, in net earnings are shown by the operating summary for the Canadian National railways during the month of April, 1927, as compared with April of last year.

Working expenses during the month of April, 1927, increased by $1,423,614.28, or 8.11 per cent, and the operating ratio for the month was 87.09 per cent, as against 86.51 in April, 1926.

For the first four months of the present calendar year, gross earnings of the Canadian National are shown to be $84,389,166, an increase of $4,965,189, or 6.34 per cent, over the earnings for the corresponding period of 1926. During the period working expenses increased by $4,509,648.57, or 6.53 per cent, over those for the first four months of 1926.

The operating ratio for the first four months of 1927 was 87.36 per cent.

The gross earnings of the railways for the week ended May 31, 1927, were $5,089,152, as compared with $5,039,837.43 for the same week of 1926, a decrease of $120,685.43, or two per cent.

YOKOHAMA MARU IS TWELVE HOURS LATE

N.Y.K. Liner Encounters Fog Off This Coast, Delaying Passage; Large Cargo

Yokohama Maru, a Japanese liner, encountered fog off the coast of British Columbia yesterday, delaying her passage by twelve hours. The vessel, which is carrying a large cargo, was expected to arrive in Victoria yesterday, but was delayed by the fog.

In addition to a milk shipment valued at $3,000,000, the Yokohama brought over a particularly heavy cargo. There were 150 tons of cargo to discharge here and 3,374 tons of cargo for Seattle and United States ports.

The vessel discharged thirty-four bags of mail here and there were 194 bags on board for the United States.

Captain Kawashima reported that on his last voyage over from this port the Yokohama encountered severe gales in mid-ocean and considerable damage was done to her bridge work. She was repaired in Japan.

HEAVY ORDERS FIRM

B.C. LUMBER MARKET

Vancouver, June 1.—Lumber mills of British Columbia report a considerably improved market situation, resulting from a stronger Atlantic market and seasonal demands from the prairies and British Columbia.

In the Orient there is still much uncertainty and a notable weakness in the log and lumber market. No immediate improvement is indicated there.

Logging camps are working steadily and the supply of logs in the water is said to be ample. The market is not so great as to cause loggers uneasiness.

Lumber prices have firmed $1 and $1.50 in some grades.

The shingle market is spotty and unsatisfactory, say shingle mill operators.

ENGLISH CRICKET

London, June 1.—The visiting New Zealand team won by eight wickets from Sussex at Brighton. The county in their first innings scored 315 and the visitors replied with 466. Sussex could only take 143 on their second innings and New Zealand wiped out the arrears with the loss of two wickets only.

The match between Oxford University and the Army was left drawn. The scores were: Army 388, Oxford 328; Army 188 for three wickets, declared (G. Bryan, 73, Stanforth 61 not out); Oxford 114 for three wickets (Crawley 47 not out).

The best that Middlesex could do in their game with Somerset at Taunton was to score a win on the first innings. Middlesex made 290 to Somerset's 277. Yesterday Somerset put up a sterling fight in their second innings and scored 305. Lee contributed 65 and White 71. Middlesex suffered a collapse and when time was reached had lost five wickets for 37 runs.

Leicester also won on the first innings. They were playing Essex at Leyton and the scores were: Essex 197, Leicester 394; Essex 313 for three wickets. The Essex second innings saw the scoring of two centuries, one by Russell (104), and one by O'Connor (139 not out).

Hampshire were first-innings winners against Gloucestershire. The scores: Gloucester 320, Hampshire 421; Gloucester 337 for four wickets, declared (Smith 100, Neale 145 not out). Hampshire were able to hold on to their first-innings advantage largely through the effort of Tennyson, who made 102 not out. The game took place at Southampton.

Yorkshire defeated Surrey by ten wickets at Leeds. Lancashire won from Worcestershire by four wickets at Dudley. Scores were:

Worcester 206, Lancashire 199; Worcester 88, Lancashire 86 for six wickets. Kent beat Derby at Derby by 127 runs. Kent 215, Derby 169; Kent 228, Derby 147.

Northampton won easily from Glamorgan at Northampton by 209. Northants 350, Glamorgan 235; Northants 160, Glamorgan 66.

Suffered Constantly from Backache

Gin Pills Recommended

Immediate Relief

If your back aches with a dull, sore pain, or if you have had headaches, then your kidneys are certainly affected. You need Gin Pills. They go right to the kidneys and soothe the inflamed tubules. They restore them to normal and the impurities of the blood stream are again filtered from the system.

Mrs. J. Reid of Vancouver writes: "Just a word of thanks for the good I have derived from the use of Gin Pills. For years I suffered constantly from backache, in fact, I was almost an invalid, couldn't do my own house work. Gin Pills were recommended to me by a friend. I started using them and obtained almost immediate relief and I am glad to say I can now do my own house work, thanks to Gin Pills. I most gladly recommend them to anyone suffering from kidney trouble."

Gin Pills are the universal remedy for backache and kidney trouble and are sold everywhere at 50c a box. National Drug & Chemical Co., of Canada, Limited, Toronto, Canada.

CHAMBER FINANCES UNDER DISCUSSION

Amendment to Govern Expenditures Finds no Second

Discussing the proposed amendments to the constitution of the Chamber of Commerce at the annual meeting of that body last night, Cecil French explained the objects of the changes which C. P. W. Schwengers, the president, had termed drastic. The amendments were intended to govern the expenditures of the board of directors. Mr. French did not care to mention what instance particularly prompted the amendments, but he said that the directors had put their hands in their own pockets and assisted the organization to the extent of $2,700. The motion found no second.

J. O. Cameron discussed the proposed amendment to the constitution dealing with the arrangement for payment of dues from members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. This made it possible for men under a certain age to drop from senior to junior memberships. He was not sure that the amendment was sound as it stood. It would certainly have a tendency to reduce income and that was to be avoided. It was the general feeling, said Archie Muir, president of the Junior Chamber, that firms which were already paying several members' fees would still enjoy the same interest in the organization and pay as much into it as they had in the past. The amendment carried without opposition.

Langford

Langford, June 1. — The forest ranger appointed this season for this district is P. Sweetman of 2836 Park View Drive telephone, Victoria, 5811. P. H. Girling is the patrolman who has come to reside in Colwood opposite the Oak Dell shore telephone, Belmont. It is now that the dry season is approaching residents should know to whom to apply for help. There have already been three small fires in the district. Everyone wishing to have a picnic fire must first obtain a permit this year. The following places are covered by the fire warden and patrolman: Jordan River, Sooke, Metchoin, Rocky Point, Otter Point, Luxton and Happy Valley, Colwood, Langford, Goldstream, the Malahat and the Highland district.

H. Shmiltzer from Saskatchewan has bought property which includes the old gun club at Florence Lake. He is busy engaged in clearing the brush preparatory to starting a muskrat farm.

Earl Hemsworth from Gardn City was the guest of Ronald McCrimmon of Rustic Home, Langford Lake, for the week-end.

CITY'S PROSPECTS BRIGHT TO EXPERT

Roger D. Pinneo, on Eve of Departure, Says Victoria on Verge of Prosperous Era; Has Laid Foundations for Successors to Use in Building Future

"A man of the same ability and capacity as Roger Pinneo is just what Victoria needs to-day and will need in the future," C. P. W. Schwengers, president of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, declared at the general annual meeting of that organization last night.

Mr. Schwengers told how Mr. Pinneo had been brought here and declared that it would not be long before the fruits of his labors were being plucked in this city.

Thus introduced, Mr. Pinneo spoke briefly. He knew of a number of different industries which were being investigated, he said, and of the great assistance the Chamber of Commerce gave in such matters.

INDUSTRIAL SURVEY
Mr. Pinneo had realized, he asserted, the need of co-operation. He had been trying to co-operate with the people through Mayor Pendray, Alderman Cuthbert Holmes and others. He had made a careful industrial survey and had delved into the possibilities in the future, and he believed that some of this information he had compiled would be valuable.

A survey of the lumber industry had meant much work, he said, but the information was necessary in seeking for fair railroad rates and the lumber assembly plant at Ogden Point.

"If you only get one factory or industry out of every ten or dozen investigations you make, you will be doing well and should be thoroughly satisfied," said Mr. Pinneo.

There was an immense amount of work done among farmers, in assisting in the organization of co-operative methods. Mr. Pinneo went on. A factory had been arranged for in this connection—a jam and fruit canning enterprise. This would mean something to the community.

CITY NEEDS EXPERT

In conclusion, Mr. Pinneo urged the appointment of an industrial expert to fill the post he would have to leave vacant. He felt major developments were not far away and that his successor would be able to bring results where he had laid the foundations.

"There is no reason for pessimism," he said in conclusion, "and I believe that in a few years' time your net tonnage will exceed that of any of the adjacent coast ports."

PRaise for Work

A vote of thanks was passed to the speaker, B. C. Nicholas, moving the vote, said he had seen how hard and conscientiously Mr. Pinneo had worked, and had seen what was accomplished. Mr. Pinneo was a port builder and he knew his business, said Mr. Nicholas. Victoria should be grateful both to Mr. Pinneo and to H. F. Alexander, the president of the company which employed him.

J. L. Beckwith seconded the vote of thanks. He thought that it was significant that the Canadian National Railways had made provision at Ogden Point for a vast expanse in business. There was every indication that this increase would come from the West Coast of Vancouver Island.

There had been a chance in the demand centres for fish meal—Europe had displaced Japan, said Mr. Beckwith. There were many such reasons to hope for the future, and to thank Mr. Pinneo.

HIGHEST BUILDING IN EMPIRE UNDER WAY IN MONTREAL

Montreal, June 1. — Work has commenced on the second stage of a building which, when completed, will be the highest in the British Empire—truly a monument to Canadian enterprise, towering about 450 feet above the ground, with a frontage of over 400 feet on Dominion Square, probably the choicest site in Montreal. The present head office of the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada, which architects declare to be one of the finest office buildings in the world will be incorporated in the completed edifice, but it will only be a small unit as compared with the finished structure.

The section fronting on the Mansfield Street property of the company will be erected first, demolition of the old buildings now on the site and excavation work having commenced. The completed building, which will include the present head office, will extend over the entire block between Mansfield and Metcalfe Streets, with a floor area of nearly a million and a quarter square feet, or more than six times that of the present building. The central structure will occupy more than one-half the total frontage on Dominion Square and will rise twenty-four storeys above the ground.

The new building is the result of years of careful thought and a pre-arranged plan to keep pace with the growth of the Sun Life business, which now is averaging over a million dollars of paid-for business every day. Building operations have been timed to coincide with the need for increased head office staff. The present head office is now occupied to capacity with a staff of approximately 1,200 people. The completed building will provide for a total staff of over 10,000. The entire building will be erected on a structural steel frame and the exterior faced with granite, and will be of the same monumental character as the existing structure.

It is interesting to note that the Montreal city by-laws permit building to any height in excess of 130 feet, provided that the higher portions are more than twenty-three feet from the street line and the total floor area of the building is not in excess of the allotted limit.

The architects of the proposed building are Darling and Pearson of Toronto. A. J. C. Paine of Montreal is associate architect.

Sidney

Sidney, June 1. — G. Davis left last week for Quatsino, B.C., where he will join a survey party.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Netzer moved last week to Victoria where they will spend a few months. Mr. Netzer is manager of the Foro Products, which has closed down until next season.

Guests registered at the Sidney Hotel for the week were Wm. H. Roberts and wife, Dunsmuir, Cal.; J. R. Clyde and wife, Jack Robertson, Ruby Baunach, Bellingham; C. E. Chandler, Klamath Falls, Ore.; J. E. Heniers, J. J. Hand, A. J. Kruetson, Portland; C. and R. Pearson, Sidney Island; J. H. Payne, Glendale, Cal.; H. W. Edgerton, Claremont, Cal.; T. ### UNIVERSITY CONFERENCE

London, Ont., June 1. — The National Conference of Canadian Universities is holding its annual meeting at the arts building of the University of Western Ontario, with Sir Arthur Currie presiding. The meetings of the conference are not open to the general public. The speakers at yesterday's session were President Tory of the University of Alberta, Prof. G. M. Weir and Dean I. A. Mackay of the Western University. The delegates present include representatives from all over Canada.

ESCAPED PRISONER RECAPTURED

Orangeville, Ont., June 1. — Bob Cook, escaped prisoner from the local jail on Monday while awaiting sentence, was recaptured yesterday four miles from here. Cook telephoned Officer J. Nelson of the provincial police and said he would surrender if he could have one more day's freedom. Nelson at once traced the telephone call and arrested the prisoner at a farm. Cook, who was searched, was found to have a loaded revolver in his possession.

The Long-sought "dry" gas

SHELL 400 is "Dry" Gas

SHELL 400 spreads its power instantly and uniformly throughout all cylinders. Unlike ordinary wet gas, it does not flood some cylinders at the expense of others.

"WET" GAS Wastes Power

Waste of power for starting

Waste of power for mileage

Waste of power for acceleration

UNEVAPORATED droplets mean waste of power—waste of power for starting, waste of power for pick-up, waste of power for acceleration, waste of power for mileage.

SHELL 400 vaporizes completely to a dry gas at every point in the cycle of combustion from low initial point to low end point. It enables you, for the first time, to get the full power out of your gasoline.

SHELL 400 has eliminated motor knocks in the most logical scientific way. It contains no chemicals; it needs none. It is a pure hydro-carbon fuel.

You could not get another gasoline as good as SHELL 400 if you paid twice as much.

And yet SHELL 400 costs you no more than ordinary gasoline.
